INCUNABULA.

- 1 AEGIDIUS MONACHVS Corboliensis. Liber metricus de pulsibus (with a commentary by Gentil de Fulgineo, edited by Avenantius Mutius de Camerino). Padua, Matthaeus Cerdonis of Windischgraetz, 1484.

4to. Gothic letter of 32 long lines to a full page, 48 ll.; with woodcut-initials. Half vellum. Frs. 1500.—

Hain* 103. Proctor 6815. Choulant, Handbuch d. Bücherkunde f. d. ältere Medizin p. 321 and 325.

Very rare first edition of this remarkable poem de pulsibus. With the extensive commentary of Gentil de Fulgineo.

Interesting product of the press of the German printer Matthaeus Cerdonis of Windischgraetz, who worked at Padua from 1482 to 1487. All his books were printed in a characteristic small Gothic type and in all his products only the three or four first leaves of each quire were numbered.

The author of this poem Aegidius Corboliensis or Gilles de Corbeil was a popular writer and a teacher at Salerno, afterwards court physician to Philip Augustus of France. He lived from 1150 to 1223, and composed several poems in Latin hexameters on medical subjects. Two of these, on the pulse and the urine, attained the position of medical classics.

The last leaves stained, at end a few small wormholes, otherwise a good copy of this remarkable incunabulum.

Only two copies in U. S. A. (acc. to Census).

See Reproduction of the Colophon below.

¶ Hic finis imponit tractatulo pulsuum Magistri Egidii cum commento Gentilis de Fulgineo qui inpressus fuit Padue per magistrum Matthaeum cer-donis de Windischgraetz die Januarii Anno domini 1484.

- 2 AESOPUS. Vita et Fabulae. N. p. d. (Strassburg, Heinrich Knoblochtzter, ca. 1481).

Fol. Gothic letters in two sizes, 42—43 lines, 114 unnl. ll. without sign., some capital spaces, capitals supplied in red, rubricated. With 191 very fine and interesting, absolutely uncoloured woodcuts, on l. 1 v the "Man- and parrot border", surrounding the cut representing Aesop, on l. 2 r the "stork-border", and numerous large ornate woodcut initials. Old half calf. Frs. 12,000.—

Gesamtkatalog der Wiegendrucke 348. Hain (without seeing it) 324 and Hain-Cop. 325. Copinger 94. Proctor 357. Brit. Mus. Cat. I, p. Schorbach & Spigatis 37. Schreiber 3021. C. F. Murray Cat. 16.

A superb woodcut-book of extreme rarity. It is adorned with 191 very curious and very original cuts. The first, as a full-page frontispiece, represents Aesop, within a fine floral border with animals and men (see reproduction C. F. Murray Cat. I, p. 24). The 2nd leaf is surrounded by the so-called stork-border, consisting of interlacing foliage with 15 different figures of birds. On this leaf begins the dedication and on verso the life of Aesop, continuing to leaf 21 (c⁷). The life of Aesop is illustrated by 26 cuts. On l. 21 v commences the prologue to the Fables ending on l. 67, then follow the additions: Fabulae Extravagantes, Fabulae novae, translated by Rinucius, the Fables of Avianus, and the Fabulae Collectae. All these Fables are richly illustrated by the famous cuts, afterwards used by Ger. Leeu at Antwerp. The designs are admirable for force of expression and of feature, the accessories are very interesting and full of character. The story is always told in the most direct and the clearest manner. The cuts are the work of an admirable artist.

There are also very nice woodcut initials of handsome design, representing florals and lion's head. Six of them show "Occupations of the Months", originally used in a German Calender, they represent a shepherd, feasting, trimming vines, playing the lute, reaping, killing swine, (see reproductions in Jennings, Early Woodcut Initials, p. 155, 157).

Quite perfect copy in very good condition, the first two leaves are rather shortly cut in margins, damaging the borders. Wormed.

Only one copy in U. S. A. (acc. to the „Gesamtkatalog“ and Census). The copy at Berlin (Kupferstich-Kabinet) is imperfect.

See Reproductions, plates I and II.

- 3 ALBERTANUS CAUSIDICUS BRIXIENSIS. De arte loquendi et tacendi. N. p. d. (Strassburg, Printer of "Henricus Ariminensis" = ? Georg Reyser de Spira, about 1476).

Fol. Gothic letter, 32 lines, 10 unnl. ll. without sign., capital spaces, capitals supplied in red, rubricated. Old vellum. Frs. 360.—

Gesamtkatalog der Wiegendrucke 532. Hain* 394. Proctor 304. Brit. Mus. Cat. I, p. 77. Early edition of this often printed moral treatise. The author lived at Brescia, at the beginning of the XIIIth century.

Fine and large copy, with rough edges, in the last leaf two small rents.

Only one copy in U. S. A. (acc. to Census).

- 4 ALBERTUS MAGNUS. Compendium theologiae veritatis, cum thematibus Bernoldi. With Tabula of Th. Dorniberg. Ulm, Johann Zainer, n. d. (ab. 1478).

Fol. Goth. type. 192 unnl. leaves, the first and last blank, 40 long lines and head-line, capital spaces. Original wooden boards covered with blind-tooled white calf, panel divided by diagonal bands filled with small floral stamps, cable work, and scrolls bearing the inscription AEIOV, two clasps (wormed and slightly rubbed.) Frs. 500.—

Gesamtkatalog der Wiegendrucke 600. Hain* 437. Proctor 2532. Brit. Mus. Cat. II, 527.

An interesting book printed by the first printer at Ulm. About the author the middle ages have much disputed and probably no medieval work has been attributed to so many different authors. Judging from latest explorations the opinion is that the author is Albertus Magnus.

Fine and very large copy, the last leaves of the register slightly waterstained, some wormholes at end.

Only one copy in U. S. A. (acc. to Census).

- 5 S. AMBROSIUS, Episc. Mediolanensis. Hexameron seu de principiis rerum. Augsburg, Johann Schüssler, 'circiter' 5 may, 1472.

Fol. Finely printed in gothic letter, spaces in the text for Greek words. 35 long lines to a full page, 76 unnn. leaves. Capital spaces. Boards. Frs. 900.—

Hain* 903. Proctor 1595. Pellechet 586. Voulliéme Berlin 56. Brit. Mus. Cat. II, 329 (imperfect copy, quoting only 72 leaves).

A fine imprint. It is printed by Johann Schüssler, the second printer of Augsburg, who acquired his stock of letters from Zainer in 1470 and up to his last book, an Augustinus de Ancona, published in 1473, he only used type 1 of Zainer. Altogether he printed only 10 works, all of which are distinguished by their accuracy and beauty of arrangement. Good copy. The first l. slightly spotted.

- 6 ANIANUS. Computus manualis metricus cum commento Algorithmus (de Sacrobosco). Strassburg, Johann Prüss, 1488.

4to. Gothic letters in four sizes, 34 lines and head-line, 53 numb. ll., 3 unnn. ll., the last blank, some printed Lombardic capitals and versal letters, rubricated. Old vellum. Frs. 900.—

Hain* 1109. Proctor 537. Brit. Mus. Cat. I, p. 121. Smith, Rara Arithmetica p. 31 (with reproduction).

Very rare edition of this interesting astrological and chiromantical work.

"The first part of this rare book is the Computus Manualis of Anianus, and the second is the Algorithmus of Sacrobosco. It is probably the first book on mathematics printed in Strassburg, and it is the first edition of each of the two treatises mentioned, and the first printed work on the computus, the arithmetic of the Church calendar". (Smith, p. 33). — "Sacrobosco's algorithmus was the first arithmetic, based on the new numerals, written by an English scholar. It consists of 11 chapters, viz. Numeratio, Additio, Subtractio, Mediatio, Duplatio, Multiplicatio, Divisio, Progressio, Perambulatio ad radicem extractionem, Extractio radicem in cubicis". (Smith, p. 450).

Anianus was an astronomer and poet of Strassburg, living in the 15th cent. Johannes de Sacrobosco was born at Halifax, he studied at Oxford and lectured at Paris. He died in 1244 or 1256.

Nice copy, in the title leaf a small rent, the blank verso of Fol. XLVIII and the last blank leaf are scribbled on by an old hand.

Only two copies in U. S. A. (acc. to Census).

- 7 ANTONINUS, archiepisc. Florent. Confessionale: Defecerunt. N. p. d. (Italia. Printer of Antoninus, Confessionale: Defecerunt, not after 1472.)

Fol. Roman letter, 30 lines, 93 unnn. ll., capital spaces, capitals partly with decoration, supplied in red, rubricated. Old hf. calf. Frs. 2800.—

Gesamtkatalog der Wiegendrucke II, 2084. Hain* 1165. Not in Proctor.

Very interesting and extremely rare product from an unknown Italian press. The book is printed with two mixed curious types, which have several forms of Q, and two forms of most of the other majuscules. Haebler does not mention these types, the measurement of which is 115—116 mm. The set of lines is not very correct, letters are often disarranged, proving want of practice by the printer, who produced probably only this book. The chapter „De ypocrisi“ is not printed in the text, but added at end of the register.

The copy of the Staatsbibliothek at Munich has the rubricator's date "1472", therefore the book must have been finished at latest in 1472.

Early edition of this famous work of Antoninus, Archbishop of Firenze.

Very large and clean copy, the first ll. slightly stained, a few quite insignificant small wormholes in blank margins.

No copy in U. S. A. (acc. to Census), nor the British Museum and the French Public Libraries.

8 ANTONINUS, archiepisc. Florent. Summa confessionum. De restitutionibus. Venice, Johannes de Colonia and Johannes Manthen, 1480.

4to. Gothic letter, 2 col., the register in 4 col., 40 lines, 102 unnl. ll. with sign., the first and last blank, capital spaces with guide-letters, capitals supplied in red, rubricated. Original monastic binding, wooden boards covered with blind stamped brown calf, panel divided by diagonal double fillets into lozenge compartments and surrounded by them; on front-cover original vellum title-label. Inside covers are pasted two interesting leaves from a vellum manuscript of the XIIth or XIIIth century with neumes. One catch for clasp (clasp wanting). Frs. 480.—

Hain*-Cop. 1183, Proctor 4339. Brit. Mus. Cat. V, p. 236.

Nice product of this important Venetian press, printed in a beautiful, small gothic type.

On verso of the first blank leaf note of ownership: oir' paulus pb'r Ratispon dyoce / hic piessus. Anno dni .1486./

Large and clean copy in the fine monastic binding. A few wormholes in the first and last leaves and in blank margins, the blank margin of a few ll. stained.

EXTREMELY RARE FRENCH WOODCUT BOOK.

9 ARS MORIENDI. — (Capranica, Dominicus.) Tractatus de arte et scientia bene moriendi. N. p. d. (Lyon, Printer of the Ars moriendi [Jean Dupré?], about 1490.)

4to. Gothic letter of two different sizes, 36 lines, 20 unnl. ll. with sign., capital spaces. With 11 curious full-page woodcuts, each signed ID, and a full-page end-title in woodcut on back-ground, also signed ID. Old white calf with golden Supra-Libros of Franc. Godef. Troilo, on the back cover a golden medallion, inside frontcover the Exlibris of the Markgraf of Baden. Frs. 12.500.—

Hain (not seen) 4390. Proctor, Additions 8700 A. Pellechet 1337. Rahir, Bibl. de l'amateur p. 176.

Magnificent piece of printing of the utmost rarity, adorned with 12 very curious full-page woodcuts. It is only Mlle. Pellechet who describes exactly this very interesting edition of the famous work (Bibl. Nationale at Paris), but without mentioning the incorrect description by Hain. Proctor supposes the edition to have been printed at Lyons about 1490, but he does not mention the description by Hain. According to the Commission of the „Gesamtkatalog der Wiegendrucke“ this edition must be attributed to a printer, called by the Commission „Printer of the Ars moriendi (Hain 4390)“. The printer worked at Lyons about 1490.

The woodcuts are of the highest interest. Each cut is signed by an unknown master ID (Nagler, Monogrammisten 2171). A u d i n in Thieme-Becker, Allg. Lexikon der bildenden Künstler VIII, p. 300 supposes this monogramist to be identical with Jean de Dalles, French woodcutter and dealer in playing-carts, born at Bourg (Ain) and working at Lyons from 1477 to 1524. He says: „Man glaubt ihn mit dem Meister ID identifizieren zu können und schreibt ihm einige Illustrationen der „Heures“ des Guillaume de Marnef zu. Weiterhin folgende Arbeiten: „Roberti Caraccioli di Licio vor dem Pabst, den Cardinälen und Bischöfen predigend“; im „Quadragesimale aureum de peccatis“, Lyon, Trechsel, 1488; eine Verkündigung in den „Mysterien der Heiligen Messe“, Lyon, G. le Roy, 1490; Holzschnitte zu einer Ausgabe der „Ars moriendi“, wahrscheinlich derjenigen, die dem Joh. du Prato zugeschrieben wird, etc.“. It is also Courboin, in his Histoire illustrée de la Gravure en France I, p. 21, who attributes the monogram ID to Jean de Dalles. He says: M. Rondot (Les Graveurs s. b. et les Imprimeurs à Lyon au XV^e siècle, p. 103) pensait que Jean de Dalle pouvait être identifié avec le graveur qui signe ID et qui a fait . . . un ars moriendi, sans lieu ni date. The subject of the cuts is the same as that in the xylographic editions. But the design is more lively and more exact, and the figures are partly full of character. The style of the artist proves typical French influence. We give a short description of these interesting cuts which are described here for the first time:

1. On verso of I. A²: A sick man in bed; around it four devils, three holding scrolls in their hands. At the head of the bed are God the Father, on his right Christ and the Virgin. In the foreground are two figures, male and female, the first cutting his throat with a knife (an early representation of suicide), the latter holding two different scourges, on the right in foreground are kneeling a king and his queen before an idol.

2. On verso of A³: „Bona inspiratio angeli de fide“. A ministering angel holding a scroll „Sis firmus in fide“ is consoling the dying man. In the background we see God the Father, Christ, The Holy Virgin, Moses, and the apostles, over the bed is the Holy Ghost.

3. On verso of A⁴: „Temptatio dyaboli de desperatione“. Around the bed of the dying man are six devils, five with scrolls, accusing him of various sins; between the devils are sitting or lying several figures.

4. On verso of A⁵: „Bona inspiratio angeli contra desperationem“. On the top of the dying man is a cock, in background St. Peter and Mary Magdalene, on the right the dying penitent thief on the cross. In the foreground stands an angel and St. Paul on his fallen horse. Under the bed are two devils represented as dogs.

5. On verso of I. A⁶: „Temptatio diaboli de impacientia“. The dying man is showing his impatience under his sufferings by kicking one of three persons ministering to him. On the left a devil.

6. On verso of A⁷: „Bona inspiratio Angeli de patiencia.“ Behind the bed of the dying man are God the Father and Christ, both with scourges, and four saints, St. Catherine, St. Sebastian, St. Barbe and St. Stephan, before the bed is standing an angel, on the left two devils are flying into hell.

7. On verso of A⁸: „Temptatio dyaboli de vana gloria“. In the background are God the Father, Christ, the Virgin and two saints, the bed is surrounded by five devils offering crowns to the dying man.

8. On verso of B¹: „Bona inspiratio angeli contra vanam gloriam“. In background the Holy Trinity, St. Virgin and St. Anthony. The bed is surrounded by three angels. On the left of the foreground is hell wherein are three men. Two devils are flying therein, one of these holding a scroll „victus sum“.

9. On verso of B²: „Temptatio dyaboli de avaricia“. The dying man is visited by his friends and relations, around the bed are three devils, one holding a scroll „provideas amicis“. In foreground there is a large building, in the cellar of which are seen four wine-casks, on the left a man is leading a horse into a stable.

10. On verso of B³: „Bona inspiratio angeli contra avariciam“. The bed with the dying man is surrounded by an angel, a holy woman standing on the top of it, and several relations, the dying man is looking on the Crucifix.

11. On verso of B⁴. The dying man is surrounded on one side by the Crucifix, saints and angels, and on other side by several devils with scrolls. He holds in his right hand the sacred taper, supported by an officiating monk.

The last woodcut, on verso of the last leaf, shows in large letters with scrolls on blackground the title: Ars | mori | endi. |

The author of this important work was the cardinal Capranica, bishop of Fermo, living from 1400 to 1458. (See Falk, Die deutschen Sterbebüchlein.)

Very fine and clean copy with some old marginal notes. The woodcuts, here printed for the first time, are in very fresh state.

No copy in U. S. A. (acc. to Census). There are only three copies known, in the Bibliothèque Nationale, the British Museum, and the National Bibliothek at Vienna. We do not remember ever to have seen a copy of this edition on the market.

See Reproductions, Frontispiece and plates III and IV.

10 ATTESTATIO. Radicalis attestatio fidei orthodoxae. Nuremberg, Friedrich Creussner, 1477.

Fol. Gothic letter, 35 lines, 87 unnl. ll. without sign., the last blank, capital spaces. Frs. 750.—

Hain*-Cop. 1908. Proctor 2136. Brit. Mus. Cat. II, p. 448. Cat. Hawkins 111.

EDITIO PRINCEPS of this anonymous work, finely printed in a rather large gothic type by Creussner.

The work is an extensive explanation of the Christian dogmas, divided into 21 articles. The author is perhaps Raymond Lullo.

Large and clean copy, some marginal notes, a few small wormholes at end.

Three copies in U. S. A. (acc. to Census).

11 S. AUGUSTINUS, AURELIUS. De arte praedicandi. N. p. d. (Strassburg), Johann Mentelin, (not after 1466).

Fol. Gothic letter, 39 lines, 20 (of 21) unnl. ll. without sign., capital spaces with guide letters, capitals supplied in red, rubricated. Old vellum. Frs. 1200.—

Hain* 1956. Proctor 200. Brit. Mus. Cat. I, p. 52. Cat. Hawkins 19.

Probably EDITIO PRINCEPS.

Very early product from the first press of Strassburg.

*Either this book or the edition printed by Fust must offer the earliest example of the substitution by a second printer of his own name in a passage relating to the original producer of the book, of which there are too many examples in incunabula. Mr. Proctor and other bibliographers have treated Mentelin as the unscrupulous plagiarist, but this decision appears to be against the weight of evidence. The anonymous editor states that after comparing the copies he was able to find at Heidelberg, Speier, Worms, and „tandem eclam in argentina“, as he thought that there could be no quicker way of presenting his text to students, ‘discreto viro Johanni mentelin incole argentinensi . . . moris omnibus persuasi. . . et laborem multiplicandi hunc libellum per viam impressoris’.

In the Mainz edition Fust's name is substituted for Mentelin's, and the words “atque tandem etiam in Argentina” cease to have any appropriateness. Another reason for the Strassburg edition being the earlier is that, as explained at the end of the preface, the index references require to be completed by hand, whereas Fust made his complete in print, a point which Schoeffer emphasizes in his advertisement. In the British Museum copy the rubricator has added the date 1466 . . .” (Cat. Hawkins, p. 12).

In our copy the last leaf of the register is in good facsimile, the last blank is wanting. Otherwise it is a well preserved, large copy, slightly waterstained in margins.

Three copies in U. S. A. (acc. to Census).

12 S. AUGUSTINUS, AURELIUS. De conflictu virtutum et vitiorum. N. p. d. (Strassburg, Georg Husner, ca. 1473.)

Fol. Gothic letter, 35 lines, 8 unnl. without sign., capital spaces. Old vellum. Frs. 360.—

Hain* 2085. Proctor 350. Brit. Mus. Cat. I, p. 83.

EDITIO PRINCEPS of this rare treatise of Augustinus. Printed with the interesting first type of Husner with fantastic majuscules. Early product of this press.

Large copy, rather wormed, a few old MS. notes and underlinings. On bottom margin of the last leaf a “tabula” is added by an old hand.

Only two copies in U. S. A. (acc. to Census).

13 S. AUGUSTINUS, AURELIUS. De animae quantitate. N. p. d. (Augsburg, Günther Zainer, before 5 June 1473.)

Fol. Gothic letter, 36 lines, 29 unnl. without sign., capitals supplied in red, rubricated. Old vellum. Frs. 360.—

Hain* 8589 (fol. 54—83). Copinger II, 771. Proctor 1565. Brit. Mus. Cat. II, p. 318.

EDITIO PRINCEPS of this treatise. It is printed with the large 2nd Gothic type of the first printer of Augsburg, Günther Zainer.

The copy of this book recorded by Hain was bound with others in a tract-volume. The Munich copy has the rubricator's date “1473 virgil Pentec“. This is the fourth tract in that volume.

Large copy, but rather wormed, chiefly in blank margins, the first and the last leaf slightly stained.

Only two copies in U. S. A. (acc. to Census).

14 S. AUGUSTINUS, AURELIUS. Liber qui vocatur Quinquaginta. Augsburg, Anton Sorg, 1475.

Fol. Gothic letter, 38 lines, 92 unnl. without sign., capital spaces with guide-letters, capitals supplied in red, rubricated. Old hf. calf. Frs. 480.—

Hain* 1987. Proctor 1641. Brit. Mus. Cat. II, p. 341. EDITIO PRINCEPS.

The first book from Sorg's press.

On leaf 21 v, line 13 we find the words Nil deficit followed by a blank space and 12 lines of misprint.

Very large and clean copy.

- 15 S. AUGUSTINUS, AURELIUS. Sermones ad heremitas. Venice, Simon Papiensis Bevilaqua, 1495.

8vo. Gothic letter, 2 col., 33 lines, 112 un. ll., capital spaces with guide-letters, woodcut capital on l. 3. Old blind stamped calf over wooden boards, in centre of the front-cover the Holy Name within a double-circle, catches for clasps. Frs. 150.—

Hain*-Cop. 2005. Proctor 5395. Brit. Mus. Cat. V, p. 520.

Some chapters of these famous sermons are of medical interest: de jejunio, de leprosis, de superfluo potu.

Some underlinings and old MS. corrections, otherwise a nice and clean copy.

- 16 BERGOMENSIS, JACOBUS PHILIPPUS FORESTI. De plurimis claris scelestisque mulieribus. Edited by Albertus de Placentia and Augustus de Casali. Ferrara, Lorenzo Rossi, 1497.

Fol. Gothic and Rom. letters, 45 lines, 4 un., 170 numb. ll. with sign. With xylographic title of large Gothic letter with ornamental initials, 3 very fine architectural full-page woodcut-borders, two of them surrounding large woodcuts, 172 cuts in the text representing portraits (some repeated), numerous nice woodcut initials on black ground and the printer's device at end. Original wooden boards, back covered with blind stamped brown calf, adorned with three ornate borders catches for two clasps. On front-cover a Supra-Libros of an abbot in gold. Clasps wanting. Frs. 6500.—

Hain*-Cop. 2813. Copinger III, p. 245. Proctor 5762. Gruyer, Les livres à gravures s. b. publiés à Ferrare (Gaz. des Beaux-Arts Ile pér., t. 38, p. 339 et 416). Baer, Die illustrierten Historienbücher, p. 201. Lippmann, Woodengraving, p. 153.

The finest production of the Ferrarese press and one of the most important of the books illustrated with woodcuts which were produced in Italy in the fifteenth century.

EDITIO PRINCEPS.

The frontispiece on l. 1v shows the author Bergomensis presenting his book to the Queen of Hungary, Beatrice of Aragon, daughter of Mathias Corvinus. The cut is surrounded by a nice border with playing cherubs. On l. numb. 1v we find another large cut within the same border, representing eight different episodes from the life of the Virgin. The beginning of the text, on l. ii, is surrounded by another beautiful border.

All illustrations in the text represent famous women. Some are imaginary portraits, but those of the author's contemporaries are certainly actual ones. The cuts representing female figures of the Bible, of heathen mythology, of classical antiquity, and ends with the writer's contemporaries. All these cuts are of original and charming designs, displaying a rich abundance of variety in conception, costume, and accessories. Actual portraits, representing contemporaries of the authors are: Bianca Maria, Duchess of Milano (p. 153 v); Catharina Ferolivii (p. 160 r); Leonora Herculis (p. 161); Bianca Mirandola (p. 163); Ginevra Sforza (p. 164); Cassandra Fidelii (p. 164 v.), and Damisella Trivulci (p. 167). "The illustrations in the text show Florentine influence in their black backgrounds" (Pollard, Early Illustrated Books, p. 132).

Very fine and clean copy in unusually good condition. The impressions of the cuts are in very fresh state, for they are here printed for the first time. All cuts are uncoloured and absolutely untouched. In the last l. a small hole in blank margin repaired.

See Reproductions, plate V.

- 17 S. BERNARDUS CLARAEVALLENSIS, Sermones de tempore et de sanctis Basel, Nicolaus Kesler, 1495.

Fol. Gothic letter, double columns of 55 lines, headline and marginalia, 214 unnumbered leaves, the last blank, with capitals supplied in red. On recto of l. 206 the printer's device of Kesler.

Bound with:

- S. BERNARDUS CLARAEVALLENSIS, Epistolae. Basel, (Nicolaus Kesler), 1494.

Fol. Gothic letter, double columns of 55 lines, foliation and marginalia, 100 numbered leaves, 4 unnumbered leaves, the last blank; with capitals supplied in red. These two books bound together in their fine original binding of oaken boards covered with pigskin, finely blind stamped: large ornaments of oak-leaves, the covers divided by diagonal fillets, the back adorned with small starshaped stamps and oak-leaves. Eight ornamentally embossed brass pieces in the corners of both sides, in the centre Supra-Libros engraved in gold, on front-cover original title-label, two clasps with engraved catches. Frs. 950.—

1. Hain* 2848 (counting only 211 printed leaves) Proctor 7687. Brit. Mus. Cat. III, p. 771. Janauschek 179.

2. Hain* 2872. Proctor 7686. Brit. Mus. Cat. III, p. 771. Janauschek 146.

These two works of S. Bernard printed by Nicolaus Kesler are in an exceedingly preserved monastery binding in original state without any repairing.

With an exlibris, and note of ownership on the title of the Sermones.

In the title-leaf of the Sermones a rent mended, some rents in lower margins, slightly stained and browned in places, at beginning a few insignificant wormholes, small stamp on the lower margin of the 2nd leaf.

Only one copy of the Epistolae in U. S. A. (acc. to Census).

See Reproduction, plate XXIX.

- 18 BEROALDUS, PHILIPPUS. Carmen de die dominicae passionis. N. p. d. (Bologna, Benedictus Hectoris Faelli, ca. 1500).

4to. Roman letter, 34 lines, 4 unnumbered leaves, without sign., woodcut capital.

Boards.

Frs. 120.—

Hain* 2976. Not in Proctor.

Probably the first edition of this poem. No other copy is ascribed by any bibliographer. Extremely rare. Printed with type 11 of Benedictus Hectoris and another larger Roman type 90.

No copy in U. S. A. (acc. to Census). No copy in the British Museum nor in the Bodleiana.

- 19 BIBLIA LATINA. Nuremberg, Anton Koberger, 1482.

Fol. Goth. letter, 53 lines and head-line, 2 col., 1 l. blank, 427 numbered leaves, 34 unnumbered leaves, rubricated throughout, numerous initials supplied in red and blue, partly ornamented. Contemporary wooden boards, covered with blind stamped brown calf, the panel of each side is divided by two ornamented diagonal bands, the whole panel surrounded by a floral border, eight finely embossed brass pieces in corners, two catches for clasps. (Slightly rubbed.) Frs. 600.—

Hain* 3084. Proctor 2027. Copinger, Incunabula Biblica 57. Brit. Mus. Cat. II, p. 424. Hase 59.

Large and perfect copy of this rare bible in its contemporary binding. A few leaves stained in margins, MS. marginal notes and underlinings, a rent in l. LXV. On l. 1 old note of ownership: Ex libris Georgij Hilarionis Kowalsky p. d. Capellani Jaromeriensis.

No complete copy in the British Museum.

20 BIBLIA GERMANICA. The Eleventh German Bible. Augsburg, Johann Schönsperger, 1487.

Fol. 2 vol. Gothic char. in two sizes, 48 lines, 2 col., vol. I: 400 (erroneously 398 numb.) ll., vol. II: 1 blank l. + 400 numb. ll., in all 801 ll., without sign. and catchwords. With a halfpage woodcut and a large initial on first page of text (numb. vii) delicately heightened with gold and illuminated by an old hand, on the lower margin of this page a finely painted floral border with golden dots, 110 fine and remarkable, large cuts in the text, nicely coloured by an old hand, and numerous "Maiblumen" and ornate woodcut initials. Bound in the two original bindings of blind stamped brown calf over wooden boards, on each side two ornamented borders, three adorned brass pieces in three corners of the 1st vol., back covered with white pigskin (slightly repaired, clasps gone). Frs. 8500.—

Hain 3139. Proctor 1765 (only in the Bodleiana). Not in the Brit. Mus. Cat. Schreiber 3463.

This ninth German illustrated Bible, the first printed by Schönsperger, is the rarest German Bible printed in the XVth century. For the last 38 years or more no copy has been found on the market. Only 7 complete copies are known, all of which are in public libraries. The other copies known are incomplete and have generally the 2nd volume only. But the extremely rare first volume is illustrated much more profusely.

The Bible contains 111 cuts, in our copy all delicately coloured by an old hand in blue, green, yellow, red, brown, rosy and gold. Most have xylographic inscriptions. The first volume is adorned with 90 cuts. The first, representing the Creation, is richly heightened with gold, and larger than the following cuts. Two cuts, one on l. cccv verso, the other on l. cccccxcvi bear the signature Hb. Nagler, Monogrammisten III, no. 653 attributed this monogram to Hans Baemler, printer, painter, and miniaturist at Augsburg, living from 1435 to 1504. Nagler III, p. 204 says: Wenn nun Bemler keine Bibel gedruckt hat, so halten wir ihn wenigstens für den Illustrator der bei Hans Schönsperger 1487 gedruckten Bibel in Folio. Wir kennen keinen Augsburger Meister, welcher zu dieser Ausstattung geeigneter war, als Hans Bemler, da er sicher auch den Schnitt der Platten überwachen konnte. Auf dem Blatte mit David, wie er links vorn im Erdgeschosse seines Palastes die Harfe spielt, ist unten in der Mitte das Zeichen (Hb), welches wir auf Bemler deuten zu dürfen glauben. Die Holzschnitte sind mit zwei Linien eingefaßt, kommen aber auch mit einer Leiste von Arabesken vor. Die Stücke wurden nämlich später zur Ausschmückung der 1507 und 1515 von Sylvan Otmar gedruckten Bibel benutzt."

The woodcut illustrations in this Bible are certainly among the most remarkable of the XVth century. The human figures and forms, male and female, are very expressive and full of character in the outline. The landscapes and terrestrial forms are partly very singular. In the New Testament there are 12 cuts, four of which represent the Evangelists, and the rest illustrate the Apocalypse. All cuts in this edition are printed for the first time they are therefore all in very fresh impressions.

Our copy of this magnificent and superb piece of printing is in excellent condition. The margins are very large, partly with rough edges. The original binding is well preserved.

No copy in U. S. A. (acc. to Census). No copy in the British Museum. The „Preussische Staatsbibliothek" at Berlin possesses only the 11nd volume.

See Reproductions, plates XXX—XXXII.

- 21 BIEL, GABRIEL. Sermones de festivitibus Christi. N. p. d. (Tübingen, Johann Otmar, 1499).

4^{to}. Gothic char., 2 col., 39 lines and head lines, 211 unnl. ll., capital spaces, with sign. Contemporary blind stamped pigskin over wooden boards (clasps gone, the front cover stained). Frs. 120.—

Hain*-Cop. 3184, I. Proctor 3224, I. Brit. Mus. Cat. III, p. 703, I. Steiff no. 8, I.

EDITIO PRINCEPS of these sermons. They form the first part of the collected „Sermones“ issued by Otmar.

Waterstained throughout, from l. n^o the greater part torn off.

- 22 BLONY, NICOLAUS DE. Sermones de tempore et de sanctis. Strassburg, (Printer of the 1483 Jordanus de Quedlinburg = Georg Husner), 1494—95.

Fol. Gothic letter, 52 lines and head-line, 2 col., 476 (of 478) unnl. ll. with sign., capital spaces. Bds. Frs. 100.—

Hain*-Cop. 3262. Proctor 636. Not in the Brit. Mus. Cat.

The author of these sermons, Nicolaus de Blony or Nicolaus Polonus, was a Polish clergyman and chaplain to the bishop of Posen, he died ab. 1450.

The 3rd and 4th l. of Register are missing, a few ll. slightly browned, the last leaves insignificantly waterstained in blank margins, notes of ownership on title, otherwise a large copy in its original binding.

- 23 S. BONAVENTURA. Biblia Pauperum. N. p. (Strassburg, Johann Prüss), 1490.

4^{to}. Gothic letter, 2 col., 38 lines, 40 numb. ll., with sign., capital spaces with guide-letters, some capitals and underlinings supplied in red. Old vellum. Frs. 400.—

Not in Hain. Proctor 580. Probably identical with Copinger 1145. Brit. Mus. Cat. I, p. 129.

Extremely rare edition of this Biblia pauperum the first seven leaves of which are incorrectly numbered. Two types are used by Prüss, the third type, used in headings, is very like Grüninger's.

Nice and perfect copy, a few old MS. notes.

Probably no copy in U. S. A. (acc. to Census, p. 51).

- 24 S. BONAVENTURA. Breviloquium de sacra scriptura. Nuremberg, (Johann Sensenschmidt), 1472.

Fol. Gothic letter, 39 lines, 69 unnl. ll. without sign., capital spaces, capitals partly with elongations supplied in red, rubricated. Old vellum. Frs. 400.—

Hain* 3472. Proctor 1947. Brit. Mus. Cat. II, p. 405.

The first dated edition and probably the EDITIO PRINCEPS of this important work, which belongs to the best treatises of Bonaventura containing much of what is individual in his teaching.

The book is printed with the first type of Sensenschmidt, the first printer of Nuremberg. This interesting large gothic type he only used in the first three years of his activity.

Good copy, one leaf quite insignificantly stained, in the blank margin of the last ll. a small wormhole.

- 25 S. BONAVENTURA. Speculum Beatae Mariae. Augsburg, Anton Sorg, 1476.

Fol. Gothic letter, 42 lines, 49 unnl. ll., the last blank, without sign., with woodcut capitals, partly with „Maiblumen.“ Old limp vellum. Frs. 800.—

THE ONLY COPY KNOWN WITH THE WOODCUT PRINTED IN THREE COLOURS.

- 27 BREVIARIUM BRIXINENSE. Augsburg, Erh. Ratdolt, 1489.

8vo. Goth. letter, finely printed in red and black, 2 col. of 34 lines, 10 (out of 18) unn. + 410 n. + 1 (out of 2) blank = 421 (out of 430 [of which 2 blank]) leaves. With a fine full-page woodcut (12×8) on verso of the first leaf repres. the bishop of Brixen, Melchior v. Meckau holding the crosier, at his feet the arms, the whole printed in red, yellow and black. 5 large initials heightened with gold, 5 floral borders painted in colours, 1 half-page astron. woodc. in the calendar. Original binding, blind tooled calf over wooden boards (under side renewed). Frs. 1200.—

Hain 3812 (not seen). Not in Proctor and Brit. Mus. Cat. Schottenloher, Die liturgischen Drucke Ratdolts X. Schreiber 3592.

THE ONLY COPY KNOWN WITH THE WOODCUT.

Hain, Schottenloher and Schreiber describe the only copy known (of the National Library at Vienna), which has no woodcut. Schreiber describing the astron. woodcut says: „Peut-être aussi le f. 1 était-il orné d'une g. s. b., mais il manque au seul expl. que j'ai vu.“ Schottenloher says: „Auch das vorliegende Brevier ist mit einem Holzschnitt geschmückt, der wieder den bischöflichen Auftraggeber mit seinem Wappen darstellt. Doch ist kein Abzug davon bekannt geworden. Nach der Beschreibung, die Sinnacher gibt, handelt es sich zweifellos um dasselbe Bild, das später bei dem ohne Jahresangabe erschienenen Brixener Obsequiale folgt.“ The wood-block of the later cut is the same, but the application of colour-printing in this first print of the cut in our book is more profuse.

The extremely interesting cut, here described for the first time, is a specimen of the earliest use of cuts printed in several colours.

Fine copy, slightly stained and used in places, several MS. annotations. Fol. 5—7 of Calendar, F. 14 (blank) and F. 15—18 missing.

It is needless to dilate on the excessive rarity of this breviary, the second copy known and the only one with the woodcut.

No copy in U. S. A. (according to Census), nor in the British Museum.

Brünn, (Conrad Stahel and Mathias Preunlein), 1488.

4to. Goth. letters, 23 lines, 21 unnn. leaves with signatures.
Old vellum. Frs. 12,000.—

Hain* 4325. Proctor 9494. Brit. Mus. Cat. III, p. 815. Cat. Hawkins 510.

Extremely rare and very interesting specimen of an imprint from the first press of Brünn (Czechoslovakia) with full colophon. The first printers were Conrad Stahel, a priest from Blaubeuren and Mathias Preunlein of Ulm. Stahel had been partner of Benedictus Mayr at Passau in 1482 and of Andreas Corvus of Venice in 1484, where he had probably met Math. Preunlein.

The press of these two partners at Brünn had produced only ten books altogether, several of which are known only in single copies. The British Museum possesses three examples.

This interesting treatise on the Study of Law by the famous Paduan legist (died ca. 1490), is the second or third product of this press. It is printed in two beautiful, large Gothic types. "The author raises some interesting questions, but often offers disappointingly vague answers, as to his query 'Quis locus ad studium videatur esse potissimus.' and in his remarks 'de paranda veste libris ac preceptore'. He advises students to give four hours to work in the morning and four in the evening, and to keep a horologe in their cubicles that they may know how time goes. To the question whether points should be read up before or after the oral lecture he answers, both. He is also clear that the canon law should be studied before the civil." (Pollard, Hawkins Cat. p. 292.)

In the recently issued little guide-book to the Ann Mary Brown-Memorial, the author of the descriptive essay, Miss Stillwell, in a brief paragraph on the chief treasures of the Rush C. Hawkins-Collection, especially mentions this volume in these words: A small quarto, a treatise on the study of law, issued at Brünn in 1488 is of surpassing beauty.

Very fine and clean copy, a few very small insignificant waterstains in blank margins.

See Reproduction of the Colophon below.

Hain (without seeing it) -Cop. 5382. Proctor 7323. Pellechet II, 3812. Pollard, Hawkins Cat., no. 403. Fumagalli, p. 84 u. 85 (Reprod.) Cosentini, Gli incunaboli ed i tipografi Piemontesi, 21.

First edition of a famous work of which numerous editions were issued in the 15th and 16th century.

"The edition of the Summa dated 1476, ascribed to Christophorus Arnoldus by Hain 5381, following Panzer III, 119, 255, is evidently one of Hanthaler's Lillienfeld forgeries, the editio princeps of this work having been first printed in the author's native place, Chivasso, in 1486" (Brit. Mus. Cat. V, p. XIII, note 3).

The author, the Franciscan vicar-general Angelus Carletti († 1495) has written in a letter to Fra Girolamo which contains his reply to the invitation to publish his book that he had already sent his MS. to the printer Jacobinus de Sancto Germano. This is the only book printed in the XVth century at Chivasso, a small town in Piedmont, by Giacomo di Suigo da San Germano, in 1484, and another the next year at Vercelli, Sulgus obtained a commission in 1486 to print at Chivasso, near Turin, the "Summa" of the Brother Angelus of that place. After executing this work he went to Venice and Turin and thence to Lyons.

Complete copy conformable with the collation given by Mrs. Pellechet. The statements of Copinger are incorrect.

The first blank leaf which contains a library-stamp and some old entries is made up on upper part. The first sixteen leaves are also slightly damaged on the right corner and repaired with small loss of text. Besides these insignificant damages the copy is partly browned and stained by water, esp. at the beginning and end. Marginal notes in places. At the end there are bound two blank leaves containing an old MS.-entry relating to the book.

On the whole a medium copy of a most scarce incunabulum printed at Chivasso.

Folio. Gothic letters, 35 lines, 193 unnn. leaves without sign., the first and the last blank, capital spaces, capitals partly with pen decoration supplied in red and green. Original red blind stamped pigskin over wooden boards, the panels divided by triple fillets into lozenge and triangular compartments filled with different small stamps, scrolls, palmated leaves, fleurs-de-lys, surrounded by a border, on the front-cover a vellum title-label slightly damaged. Frs. 1250.—

Hain*-Cop. 4573. Proctor 1594. Brit. Mus. Cat. II, p. 329.

EDITIO PRINCEPS of this interesting historical work. It is a Latin translation of the ecclesiastical histories of Theodoret, Sozomen and Socrates embracing the years 306—439, edited by the important Syrian historian Cassiodorus. He lived in the 6th century.

Very fine and early product from the press of Schüssler, printed in his beautiful type taken over by him from Günther Zainer.

Unusually fine, large and clean copy, adorned with nicely painted initials, in the original binding. A few quite insignificant wormholes in blank margins.

34 CATO, DIONYSIUS. Disticha de moribus cum glosa et moralisatione. Cologne, Heinrich Quentell, 1494.

4to. Gothic letters in three sizes, 47 lines of commentary, leaded text, 48 unnn. ll. with sign., capitals supplied in red, rubricated. On title an Accipies woodcut, a master and two pupils. Old half calf. Frs. 700.—

Hain* (without seeing it)-Cop. 4733. Proctor 1325. Voulliéme, Buchdruck Kölns 318. Brit. Mus. Cat. I, p. 283. Schreiber 3682. Schreiber, Accipies-Holzschnitte, pl. 18.

Very nice edition of these famous Disticha, being partly very interesting for medicine and natural sciences etc. The Disticha and the extensive commentary deal a. o. with the following subjects: dormitio, ebrietas, egritudo, gula, homo, medicina, medicus, memoria, menstrua, oculi, senex, sobrietas, somnia, vinum, vulnera, etc.

Dionysius Cato is a supposed author of this collection of moral apophthegms, each consisting of two hexameters, in four books. They are monotheistic in character, not specially Christian. The book had a great reputation in the middle ages, and was translated into many languages.

Very fine, rubricated copy of this nice booklet.

Frs. 1500.—

Hain* 5028. Proctor 2488. Brit. Mus. Cat. II, p. 613. Schreiber V⁴, 4331.

The rare first and the only edition of the XVth century of these „Homiliae liiii super Psalmum Miserere et Epistolas S. Pauli“. The remarkable initial P at beginning representing the scene of Nativity is a very fine specimen of woodcutting from this press.

A fine specimen of the first and only press at Urach. Conrad Fyner worked there from 1479 to 1485. All the products of his Urach-press are very rare and very interesting from the typographical point of view.

A few old marginal notes and underlines, a few leaves slightly browned, otherwise a fine, large and clean copy.

- 38 DECISIONES Antiquae Rotae Romanae. Pavia, Christophorus de Canibus and Stephanus de Georgiis, 1485—86.

Fol. Gothic letters, 2 col., 60 lines, 54 unnl. ll., the last blank, spaces left for capitals. Old vellum.
Frs. 1200.—

Hain* 6050. Not in Proctor.

Extremely rare and finely printed product of this small press of Pavia. Christophorus de Canibus worked there from 1484 to 1499, the first three or four years in partnership with Stephanus de Georgiis.

Clean and large copy of these canonical Decisiones compiled by different authors. The last ll. rather wormed.

No copy in U. S. A. (acc. to Census). No copy in the British Museum, the French public libraries and the Staatsbibliothek at Berlin.

With fine woodc. initials white on black ground. Old calf on wooden boards, clasps gone. (Back partly repaired, wormed).
Frs. 120.—

Hain-Cop. 6299. Brit. Mus. Cat. II, 387. Proct. 1901. Bohatta, Liturg. Bibliogr. 626.

Very rare first edition of the Passau Diurnal in very good preservation except for some spots and insignificant wormholes on ll. G₆-H₆. Some MS. annotations.

No copy in U. S. A. acc. to Census.

- 40 ERKLÄRUNG der zwölf Artikel des christlichen Glaubens. (Ulm, Conrad Dinckmut, 1485).

Fol. Gothic letter, table in 2 col., 35 lines and head-line, 2 (out of 4) unnl., 157 (out of 158) numb. ll. With 12 fine full-page woodcuts and 12 large ornamental woodcut capitals. Contemporary blind stamped brown calf over wooden boards, two catches for clasps (back partly repaired).
Frs. 800.—

Hain* 6668. Proctor 2566. Brit. Mus. Cat. II, p. 534. Schreiber V, 4106. Weil, Der Ulmer Holzschnitt p. 73 f.

First typographical edition of this extremely rare and famous German book. Hain 6667 quotes erroneously an edition of 1483, not mentioned by any other bibliographer and probably identical with the present edition.

The woodcuts, which are twelve in number, and cover the full page, display much more artistic skill than is to be usually found in books of this early date, and are very spirited. Weil, Der Ulmer Holzschnitt p. 73 names the artist „Meister der Glaubensartikel“, who is influenced by Johann von Armsheim. The first cut depicting the Creation of the World is a single block, the rest are each composed of two or three blocks. A woodcut precedes each „Artikel“.

In this copy which contains all the twelve cuts in very fine impressions, the first and the fourth l. of Register and the last l. with the colophon are missing. Otherwise it is a very large copy, stained in places, with a small hole in the 2nd l. of Register, with loss of a few letters.

Only one copy in U. S. A. (acc. to Census).

See Reproduction, plate VII.

- 41 FICINUS, MARSILIUS. De triplici vita libri III. (De vita sana, s. de cura valetudinis eorum qui incumbunt studio litterarum, De vita longa. De vita coelitus comparanda. Apologia: in qua de medicina, astrologia, vita mundi, item de Magis qui Christum statim natum salutav . . . p. d. (Basel, Johann Amerbach, c. 1497, not after 1498.)

4^{to}. Rom. letter with goth. head-lines, 35 long-lines, 100 leaves with sign., capital spaces with guide-letters. Contemp. wooden boards, back covered with blind stamped pigskin, catches for clasps. Frs. 400.—

Hain-Cop.* 7063. Copinger III, p. 260. Proctor 7650. Brit. Mus. Cat. III, 759. Pellechet 4798.

This interesting work deals in its first part with the standard of life of learned men; the second part treats of the prolongation of life; in the third the author teaches mystical, astral medicine. The book contains also chapters on headaches, diseases of the stomach, dietetics, etc., further astronomical and philosophical treatises.

Amerbach gave three copies of this book to the Basel Charterhouse in 1497 or 1498.

Nice copy, a few old marginal notes, the last ll. slightly stained, stamp on title.

- 42 GARLANDIA, JOHANNES DE. Synonyma. Reutlingen, (Michel Greyff), 1487.

4^{to}. Gothic letters of two sizes, 33 lines, 91 unnl. ll. with sign., the first blank (the last blank is wanting), a few capital spaces, rubricated throughout. On the 2nd and third leaf a nice painted initial, the first with a floral border in red, green and yellow, some initials supplied in red and green, partly with pen decoration. Wooden boards, back covered with old deerskin. Frs. 700.—

Hain* 7472. Proctor 2725. Brit. Mus. Cat. II, p. 579.

Probably EDITIO PRINCEPS. The very rare first dated edition of this often printed metrical treatise. Nice and finely printed booklet from the first press of Reutlingen. One of the few products of this press with the printer's name and place.

John Garland was an important Latin grammarian, born in England, but mostly living in France. He lived in the XIIIth cent.

Well preserved copy of this nice booklet, the first leaves quite insignificantly stained.

No copy in U. S. A. (acc. to Census).

- 43 GERSON, JOHANNES. De arte audiendi confessionis. De remediis contra recidivum peccandi. N. p. d. (Nuremberg, Johann Sensenschmidt, ca. 1470).

Hain*-Cop. 7751. Proctor 631. Brit. Mus. Cat. I, p. 146.

The Gesta Romanorum are a collection of little stories or tales borrowed from sacred literature, of oriental and European origin compiled perhaps about 1300 in England. It still possesses a twofold interest, first as the most popular book of the time, and secondly as the source, directly or indirectly, of later literature, in Chaucer, Shakespeare and others. Of its authorship nothing certain is known, and there is little but gratuitous conjecture to associate it either with the name of Helinandus or with that of Petrus Berchorius. The work was evidently intended as a manual for preachers. The work gives us, e. g., the germ of the romance of "Guy of Warwick", part of Chaucers "Man of Lawes' Tale", a tale of the emperor Theodosius the same in its main features as that of Shakespeare's "Lear", the story of the "Three Black Crows" and a story identical with the "Fridolin" of Schiller.

Very fine and large copy of this very interesting work.

47 GROSS, ERHART. Der Laien Doctrinal. Augsburg, (Johann Schönsperger), 1485.

Fol. Gothic letter, 2 col., 42 lines, 42 numb. ll., the first and the last blank, woodcut capitals, partly with „Maiblumen“. With a remarkable full-page woodcut. Contemporary blind stamped brown calf over wooden boards, two catches for clasps. Frs. 900.—

Hain (not seen). -Cop. 8085. Reichling II, p. 182. Proctor 1762. Brit. Mus. Cat. II, p. 365. Schreiber V, 4124.

The extremely rare first dated edition of this German book containing moral treatises from the Bible, the church-fathers, and heathen writers. The large woodcut which is here in a very fine impression, represents 'Heaven and Hell'.

Large and quite perfect copy, insignificantly waterstained in blank margins, the last blank leaf partly cut away.

No copy in U. S. A. (acc. to Census).

Very rare edition of this famous book. The types are not mentioned by Haebler. According to the Commission of the „Gesamtkatalog der Wiegendrucke“ the book was probably printed by the anonymous Printer of the Legenda aurea, about 1480. There are two different types M⁹⁵ 95—96 mm, and M⁹⁹ 107—108 mm.

Large copy in the original binding but rather wormed at beginning and at end, the blank margins waterstained in places.

No copy in U. S. A. (acc. to Census).

Probably EDITIO PRINCEPS. On account of this book, Proctor has named the unknown printer of Strassburg, because in this imprint we find the colophon: „arte impressoria artificioso Argentinae effigiatum“. On account of new researches it is thought that this printer is probably identical with Georgius Reysser de Spira.

Thomas Dorniberg was the editor of this work and finished the compiling of the Index 11. Nov. 1472 („in die Sti Martini pape“), which shows that the book cannot have been printed earlier than this date.

A rent in l. 6 and 139 with loss of one letter, two very small iron-stains in the last two
 ll. with the insignificant damage of a few letters, the blank margin of the first leaf slightly damaged

Good and perfect copy of this famous early German Herbal. It is supposed that it was compiled by one Johann de Cube who names himself in chapter 76 speaking of "ein gute arzney dick mal versucht an vil endea von mir meister Johan von cube", and who is identified with Dr. Job. Wonnecke, of Caub or Cube, who was town-physician of Frankfort at the end of the 15th century. In the Preface is an account of the preparation of the book in which it is stated that the originator of the work caused a master learned in medicine to compile from the great masters, Galen, Avicenna, Serapion, and others, a volume dealing with the virtues of herbs, &c., but finding that it was essential to include certain plants that grew in foreign lands, he prepared himself for a pilgrimage to the Holy Sepulchre. Thus, in the company of a skilful painter, he undertook a long journey through Italy, Greece and other countries to the Holy Land, thence to Arabia Minor, Mount Sinai, Babylonia, and by Alexandria into Egypt. The identity of this scientific traveller who was a presumably rich man, apparently not a doctor, cannot be established.

Besides the series of Herbs and natural objects which the work describes, it contains an index of drugs according to their uses, a short treatise on "the Colours of Urines" and their significance — with a well-drawn woodcut of a physician inspecting a glass of urine, while a female patient with a basket awaits his verdict —, further a long index of diseases with reference to the chapters containing medicines appropriate to them, and an alphabetical index of herbs and other objects.

Our copy of this popular book is rather waterstained in places, at beginning a few small wormholes, two leaves are insignificantly torn without any loss of text, otherwise a fine and large copy. Small library-stamp on the lower margin of the 2nd leaf.

EDITIO PRINCEPS of this principal work of the great mystic philosopher.

The "Printer of Henricus Ariminensis" is, judging from the result of recent researches probably identical with Georgius Reysser de Spira.

The Brit. Mus. Cat. p. 78 quotes erroneously 254 ll. The work is perfect with 244 ll., because in the copy of the Brit. Mus. Cat. the quire 23 was counted twice (see Baer & Co., Kat. Wolff no. 580).

Fine and large copy in its original interesting binding, the lower blank margin partly waterstained, the lower blank margin of l. 43 cut away and repaired, a few marginal MS.-notes. Note of ownership on l. 6 v: Simonis Joan: Melch: de Chrzenowicz in possessione 1571.

EDITIO PRINCEPS of this remarkable treatise of Jacobus of Jüterbogk. Extremely rare.

The author Benedict Stolzenhagen, known as Jacob de Clusa or de Jüterbogk or de Grunitrode was born at Jüterbogk in Brandenburg. He became a Cistercian at the monastery of Paradiz in Poland, and was later a theologian at the university of Cracow. In 1441 he obtained the leave of the papal legate at the council of Basel to transfer himself to the Carthusians, entering the monastery of Salvatorberg near Erfurt. In 1455 he was rector of the university of Erfurt. He died in 1465.

Finely printed with the types 1 and 2 of Gregorius Böttiger or Wermann who began printing at Leipzig in 1492.

Nice and clean copy.

No copy in U. S. A. (acc. to Census).

- 57 JACOBUS DE CLUSA. Sermones formales de praecipuis festivitibus per annum tam de tempore quam de sanctis. N. p. d. (Blaubeuren, Conrad Mancz, ca. 1475).

Small-fol. Gothic letter, 274 leaves without signatures, 32 long lines to a full page, capital spaces, capitals supplied in red, rubricated. Fine contemporary binding, blind stamped hogskin over wooden boards, the panel of the upper side divided by double and triple fillets into lozenge compartments adorned with nice small stamps: double eagle displayed, dog, and flower within a lozenge and small stars and a stag courant within a circle, the whole panel surrounded by an ornate border of repeated impressions of rectangular floral stamps; the under side divided by diagonal and vertical triple fillets into triangular compartments filled with small stamps. On front-cover the original vellum title-label, two original clasps (one damaged). Slightly wormed. Frs. 1500.—

Fol. Roman char. of 36 lines, 215 un. ll. with sign., capital spaces. Contemporary wooden boards, back covered with blind stamped brown calf, with clasps (the back and the leather on the lower side wanting). Frs. 360.—

Hain*-Cop. 9452. Proctor 6918. Giuliani, Tipogr. Veronese p. 23.

The first book printed by Maufer at Verona and the only one signed by him in this town. Printed at the cost of Innocens Ziletus, who had already published a book at Pogliano.

This copy contains the two inserted leaves with the letter of Ludovicus Cendrata, dated from Verona on 30 Nov. 1480, and three sets of verses. These two leaves were printed when the book was already finished and were inserted between the two first blank leaves.

Large copy, the inner margin of some ll. stained and damaged by damp and wormed, therefore marked at this low price.

- 59 ISIDORUS HISPALENSIS. Etymologiae. N. p. d. (Strassburg, Joh. Mentelin, ca. 1473.)

Fol. Goth. letter, double columns, rubricated throughout, with 1 elaborately drawn initial letter in green and violet with neat floral ornamentation carried into the margins, many other initials in red and blue; some small diagrams supplied in red; 8 fine woodcut diagrams, among them the famous schematic mappemonde showing Europe, Asia, Africa and the Mediterranean, the whole surrounded by "Oceanus"; Greek letters filled in by hand; 141 leaves without signatures. Old marbled calf, back covered with white pigskin, red edges. Frs. 2500.—

Hain* Copinger 9270. Proctor 227. Schreiber 4267. Brit. Mus. Cat. I, 57. Oster, Incunabula Medica 27.

Very fine and early edition of this curious mediaeval encyclopaedia, composed about 600 and covering the whole range of knowledge of the time. Of the twenty books the first treats of Grammar, the third of Mathematics and Astronomy, the fourth of Medicine, the fifth of Law, the seventh of God and the angels, the twelfth of Animals, the fourteenth of the Earth, Paradise, all the countries of the world and the islands, the sixteenth on Minerals and Precious Stones, the nineteenth on Shipbuilding, architecture and other technological subjects. The work was written chiefly by St. Isidor, Bishop of Sevilla, who lived c. 570–636, and was one of the greatest figures of the early Spanish Church. It was put in order and completed by Isidor's friend and brother, bishop Saint Braulion (ob. 646), whose name appears in the first sentence of the book.

This copy is one of the first of this edition because the colophon Explicit Liber Ethimo / logiarum Isidori Ispa / lensis Episcopi. / of three lines is still omitted. These copies without the colophon are very scarce. The two copies of the British Museum have the colophon.

Very fine product from the first printer of Strassburg, Johann Mentelin.

A magnificent specimen of early printing, from the first printers of Italy. Sweynheim and Pannartz introduced printing into Italy, both probably workmen from Gutenberg's original printing press. After working at Subiaco, they removed to Rome in 1467. They used for all their books a fine and large Roman text type. 275 was, as a rule, the number of copies printed in an edition. Their publications were nearly all either classical or patristic.

Besides the great typographical value of this book, this copy is a brilliant specimen for early book decoration. The beauty and handsomeness of the border on the first leaf of the text is almost incomparable. The very curious masks and figures, the graceful birds and the very nice floral ornamentations are the work of a very skilful, inventive and fanciful artist. The chief part of the border is painted on bottom margin of the page on dark-green background with red, blue, yellow and violet floral ornamentations heightened with gold, the two curious masks on the left and the right are painted in green and yellow, between which are the arms of a former possessor beautifully painted in gold, blue, red,

Hain* 10329. Proctor 1650. Brit. Mus. Cat. II, p. 314.

EDITIO PRINCEPS of this very interesting encyclopaedic work, which has been erroneously attributed to Mathias Farinator, a Carmelite from Vienna, who was only the editor of this work. It contains numerous interesting chapters, dealing with medicine, natural sciences, especially with animals and domestic animals, the constitution, psychology and diseases of the man, useful minerals, astronomy, rules of diet etc., etc.

The author of this important work is probably Berengarius, archbishop of Compostella, on account of the indication in the preface of a MS. to be found in the monastery of SS. Ulric and Afra: "ego frater Berengarius, quondam magister ordinis fratrum praedicatorum, nunc autem quamvis indignus Compostellis archiepiscopus." Berenguer lived about 1150, and was archbishop from 1151 to 1153.

Very fine specimen of the art of printing of Anton Sorg. The book is printed with his nice first type. On l. 237r we find a second form of an M, not described by Haebler (similar to his M²⁹).

Unusually fine, large and clean copy in original binding, a few ll. are slightly waterstained in blank bottom margin, a few very small wormholes in blank margins. Inside covers are pasted two leaves of an imprint by Sorg, therefore the binding is perhaps made at Augsburg in his office.

Only one copy in U. S. A. (acc. to Census).

- 70 MAFFEUS, CELSUS, Veron. Can. Monumentum compendiosum seu Scrutatoridum duplex pro confessionibus Cardinalium et Praelatorum. Venice, Petr. de Quarengiis Bergom., 1498.

4^{to}. Finely printed in Roman letter, 27 lines, 16 unnl. leaves. Vellum. Frs. 450.—

Hain 10440 (not seen); Reichling III, p. 96. Not in Proctor and the Brit. Mus. Cat.

Extremely rare. There is no copy of this book in the Brit. Mus. or Bodleian Library and no copy in U. S. A. (acc. to Census).

The author Maffeus was a learned man, who died in 1503.

Fine copy, only the first leaf slightly browned.

- 71 MARGARITA DECRETALIUM. (Basel), Nicolaus Kesler, n. d. (ca. 1491).

4^{to}. Gothic letter, 2 col., 46 lines and head-line, 56 unnl. ll., with sign., capital spaces with guide-letters, the first two pp. rubricated. With printer's device of Kesler at end. Vellum. Frs. 120.—

Hain 10756. Proctor 7703. Brit. Mus. Cat. III, p. 774.

Good copy of this rare edition in quarto of a collection of excerpts of the Decretals. On l. 1 v a poem by the editor Seb. Brant dedicated to Nic. Kesler.

On the first and the last leaf a register is added by an old hand.

No copy in U. S. A. (acc. to Census).

- 72 MARTINUS (STREPUS) POLONUS. Sermones de tempore et de sanctis. Strassburg, (Printer of the 1483 Jordanus de Quedlinburg=Georg Husner), 1484.

Fol. Gothic letter, double cols. of 46—49 lines and head-line, 255 unnl. leaves, the last blank, no sign., capitals at the beginning of the three parts are painted in red and blue, other capitals are supplied in red, rubricated and underlines. Fine original binding of oak boards, covered with red pigskin, the front cover richly adorned with stamps: panel, enclosed within a frame of oak-leaves and ragged staffs inwreathed with foliage and a label bearing the name „marai“, divided by triple fillets into lozenge compartments and adorned with many different stamps, circular double roses surrounded by ornamental stamps or acorns, fleur de lys, flower, the holy name and double eagle displayed within a lozenge. The under side divided into lozenge compartments by fillets is stamped with circular double roses and flower spray into a lobe. Eight brass pieces in the corners of both sides, in the centre of the upper side a Supra-Libros engraved in gold, on front cover original vellum title-label, two clasps with engraved catches. Frs. 950.—

Hain* 10854. Proctor 591. Brit. Mus. Cat. I, p. 132.

Very fine and large copy bound in an exceedingly preserved monastery binding with beautiful stamps.

In l. 70 a very small and insignificant hole. Note of ownership on the title. On the second leaf a small stamp.

See Reproduction, Plate XXXVII.

- 73 MENNICKEN, CAROLUS. Formulae epistolarum. N. p. (Strassburg, Martin Schott), 1487.

4^{to}. Gothic letters of two sizes, 38 lines and headline, 6 unnl., 83 numb. (with many errors) ll., a capital supplied in red, rubricated. Old vellum. Frs. 400.—

Hain* 10670. Proctor 396. Brit. Mus. Cat. I, p. 94.

Good edition of this interesting early popular manual of correspondence which passed through a great number of editions. Carolus Manneken or Virulus lived in the XVth cent. and was a pedagogue at Caslet and Louvain. He died in 1493.

The title leaf and the blank space of the last leaf scribbled on, a few wormholes run through the copy, but on the whole the copy is in good and perfect condition.

No copy in U. S. A. (acc. to Census).

- 74 S. METHIDIUS. Revelationes divinae a sanctis angelis factae. — WOLFGANGUS AYTINGER. Tractatus super Methodium. (Edited by Sebastian Brant). Basel, Michael Furter, 1498.

4to. Gothic letters in two sizes, 36 lines and marginalia, 68 unns. ll. with signatures, a few capital spaces with guide-letters. With 61 large and very curious woodcuts and some nice, ornate woodcut initials. Contemporary wooden boards, back covered with blind stamped brown calf (repaired).
Frs. 2400.—

Hain*-Cop. 11121. Proctor 7738. Brit. Mus. Cat. III, p. 785. Lipperheide Cat. no. 431. Schreiber 4648. Weisbach, Baseler Buchillustration 58 (with reproductions). Muther 489.

The first edition of this very fine and charming woodcut-book. The cuts are here printed for the first time. The book was often reprinted. The title-cut represents Saint Methodius in prison at Negropont and listening to an angel reading from a book. On verso of the title we find the dedication of Seb. Brant to Joh. Meder, friar minor. The text is illustrated by 60 very curious cuts of original and handsome design, we mention the following specially interesting subjects: on l. a² v necromancers, on l. a⁶ v building, on l. a⁷ v, a⁸ and b¹ scenes of battles, on l. b³ v the rulers of Assyria, Persia, Greece and Rome with their shields, on l. b⁴ Alexander Magnus kneeling, and Gog and Magog (with xylographic lettering), on l. d₂ „De nativitate Antichristi“, on l. d₅ Jerusalem as a walled city, but indicating the Mosque of Omar and the Church of the Holy sepulchre, on l. e³ arms of Naples and of France (with xylographic lettering) etc.

The work is attributed to Methodius, surnamed Patavensis, bishop of Olympus, and it was translated by an Augsburg monk, Wolfgang Aytinger. But it is more probable that the work originated with the latter and that it was written with the idea of exciting the animosity of the Christians against the Turks. The second part gives the history of the successive Christian occupations of Jerusalem, schisms of the Church (with an very curious cut), the fall of Constantinople etc. On l. h¹ we find the chapter: Hieremias de destructione Turciae atque devastatione terrae Saracenorum spiritu prophethico in eius. On l. i¹ v is the very interesting cut of the woman of Babylon, on the bottom of the dress of which is the inscription: GOT IST NIT GOT.

Very nice, quite perfect and large copy with fine and absolutely uncoloured impressions of the cuts in very fresh state, a few wormholes in the blank margin.

See Reproductions, plate XI.

- 75 S. METHIDIUS. Revelationes divinae angelis factae. — Wolfgangus Aytinger. Tractatus super Methodium, (edited by Seb. Brant). (Basel, Michael Furter, 1500).

4to. Goth. letter, 36—37 lines and marginalia, 58 (out of 68) unns. ll., with sign. With 50 (out of 59) interesting large woodcuts and many woodcut initials partly with „Maiblumen“ pattern. Hf. vellum. Frs. 400.—

Not in Hain, Copinger, and Reichling. Proctor 7740. Brit. Mus. Cat. III, p. 786. Schreiber V, 4649. Weisbach, Baseler Buchillustration 61.

The extremely rare second Furter-edition with the beautiful woodcuts. This Incunabulum is chiefly remarkable because it is an Early Antipapal Book.

Leaves a¹, a³, a⁴, a⁶, d¹, d², e¹, e² and i⁵, i⁶ are wanting. A few ll. torn in margins.

Schreiber knows only 4 copies. No copy in U. S. A. (acc. to Winship).

76 MISSALE ROMANUM. Venice, Nicolaus de Frankfordia, 1487.

8vo. Goth. letter, finely printed in red and black throughout, 2 cols. of 33 lines, 272 numb. leaves. With a very fine full-page woodcut of the Crucifixion, excellently coloured by a contemp. hand. Rubricated throughout, capitals in red and blue, some painted initials with floral elongations in gold and other colours, two small borders. Fine original binding, richly stamped calf on wooden boards, 8 metal brass-pieces, catches for clasps (one missing). Frs. 900.—

Hain* 11389. Proctor 4803. Brit. Mus. Cat. V, 335. Weale, p. 137. Rivoli p. 156, no. 30.

Splendid copy of this rare missal, preserved in its original binding.

8 blank pages (2 vellum leaves) are written on by a hand of the early 15th century. 2 insignificant wormholes.

Only 1 copy in U. S. A. (acc. to Census).

See Reproduction, plate XXXVIII.

77 MISSALE ROMANUM. Venice, Georgius Arrivabenus, 1499, 29 Maij.

Fol. Goth. printed in red and black. 285 (out of 296) numb. ll. (8 prel., the last blank and ll. o₃ and p₄ missing). Musical notes (nota quadrata). Some fine initials, the initial T of the Canon coloured. Old brown calf over wooden boards on the upper side five, on the under side three large gilt panel stamps with scenes of the Old and New Testament, on the front cover the stamped title, on the back cover the inscription: D. Michaelis | 15. Litmanni. M. 62. | With 7 (out of 8) embossed brass pieces in corners. Gauffred gilt edges. Frs. 480.—

Not in Hain and Proctor. Copinger II, 4214. Reichling, VI 113/4. Weale p. 143.

Very rare Roman Missal of which Weale only knows one copy at Paris and Reichling another one at Venice, printed with beautiful types.

The Crucifixion is missing as above stated and it is supplied with a fine miniature on vellum repr. Christ on cross with St. Mary and St. John, painted in green, red and blue, the nimbus heightened with gold, in background Jerusalem and Golgatha.

Some ll. mended in margin and spotted, on l. 287 a part of the corner cut off.

At end ll. with masses and prayers in MS.

No copy in U. S. A. (acc. to Census), nor in the British Museum.

78 MODUS LEGENDI ABBREVIATURAS. N. p. d. (Strassburg, The R-Printer = Adolf Rusch, ca. 1470.)

Fol. Semigothic letter, 2 col., 38 lines, 228 unn. ll. without sign., the last blank, capital spaces, capitals supplied in red, rubricated. Bound in the original monastic binding, wooden boards, back covered with blind stamped brown calf, on frontcover the original vellum title-label, two clasps (the backcover wormed and rubbed). Frs. 800.—

Hain* 11480. Proctor 250. Brit. Mus. Cat. I, p. 64.

EDITIO PRINCEPS of this important canonical and juristic work. Very rare product of the second printer of Strassburg, the famous „R-printer“. The book is printed with his nice semigothic type, which is mixed with majuscules from the Roman type of Rusch.

The work is a key to the canonical and imperial lawbooks of that time, advertising the titles, the contents and the explanations of the abbreviations used in it.

Large and clean copy, wormed in the first leaves and at end.

Only one copy in U. S. A. (acc. to Census).

- 79 NIAVIS, PAULUS. Epistolae breves. N. p. d. (Nuremberg, Peter Wagner, ca. 1490).
 4^{to}. Gothic char., 33 lines, 24 unnl. ll. with sign., rubricated, with a nice and large woodcut capital. Old vellum. Frs. 90.—
 Hain*-Cop. 11727. Proctor 2248. Brit. Mus. Cat. II, p. 463.
 Interesting collection of letters of Nivavis, a pedagogue at Leipzig, living at end of the 15th and at beginning of the 16th cent.
 The last leaf damaged with loss of a quarter of the text, some wormholes.
 Only one copy in U. S. A. (acc. to Census).
- 80 NICOLAUS (DE TUDESCHIS) PANORMITANUS. Disputationes et allegationes. Cologne, Johann Koelhoff the Elder, 1477.
 Fol. Goth. letter, 2 col., 53 lines, 103 unnl. leaves, the first blank, spaces left for capitals. Contemporary wooden boards, back covered with nicely blind stamped brown calf. Frs. 800.—
 Hain* 12355. Proctor 1032 A. Brit. Mus. Cat. I, p. 221. Voulliéme, Buchdruck Kölns 840. Very rare edition of this work of the famous jurist and archbishop of Palermo. The only edition printed in Germany in the XVth cent.
 Nicolaus Tudeschi Panormitanus lived at the beginning of the XVth century, he died at Palermo in 1445. His many works are all of great value for the history of jurisprudence.
 Very large and clean copy of this rare and finely printed book. The first leaves slightly wormed.
 No copy in U. S. A. (acc. to Census).
- 81 NICOLAUS (DE TUDESCHIS) PANORMITANUS. Consilia cum tabula Ludovici Bolognini. Venice, Peregrinus de Pasqualibus and Dominicus Bertochus, 1486.
 Fol. Gothic letter, 2 col., 76 lines, 75 unnl. leaves with sign., spaces left for capitals. Old vellum. Frs. 480.—
 Hain*-Cop. 12348. Proctor 4855. Not in the British Museum Cat.
 Very rare edition of this juristic work. Finely printed product of this press. Peregrinus de Pasqualibus printed at first at Treviso in partnership with his Bolognese fellow-townsmen Dionysius Bertochus.
 Very clean and large copy in first rate condition.
 Only one copy in U. S. A. (acc. to Census).
- 82 NIDER, JOH. Sermones aurei de tempore et de sanctis, cum quadragesimali. Ulm, Joh. Zainer, n. d. (ab. 1478).
 Fol. Gothic letter of 40 long lines and head-line, 318 ll., of which 228 and 318 are blank, with fine alphabet of xylographic initials, nicely coloured in green and brown, rubricated, no sign. or catchwords. Contemporary blind stamped pigskin over wooden boards, two clasps. Frs. 500.—
 Hain*-Cop. 11802. Proctor 2535. Brit. Mus. Cat. II, p. 529.
 Probably EDITIO PRINCEPS of these sermons. Fine specimen of the art of printing by the first printer of Ulm, adorned with nice ornamental woodcut initials carefully drawn and shaded, some formed of dragons and eagles, others with foliage. On l. 221 there is an interesting and very clear specimen of the employment of supporting types.
 Very fine and large copy of this interesting imprint. In the blank margin of a few leaves a wormhole.
 Only 2 copies in U. S. A. (acc. to Winship). The copy in the British Museum is imperfect. At beginning and at end there are two fly-leaves from an vellum manuscript of the XIIIth or XIIIth cent.

- 83 NIDER, JOHANNES. Praeceptorium divinae legis seu expositio decalogi. Ulm, Johann Zainer, n. d. (ca. 1478, not after 1480).

Fol. Gothic letters in two sizes, 2 col. in table, 41 lines and head-line, 244 ll. without sign., capital spaces, capitals supplied in red, rubricated. Original blind stamped brown calf over wooden boards, in centre-panel ornaments of an unicorn courant within a lozenge, the whole surrounded by oak-leaves ornaments, on front-cover original vellum title-label, one clasp (the other gone; slightly rubbed). Frs. 480.—

Hain* 11785. Proctor 2534. Brit. Mus. Cat. II, p. 527.

Finely printed edition of this famous often printed work. It is a moral treatise on the decalogue, and contains, in the 9th—11th chapter of the first commandment, several interesting passages relating to witchcraft, sorcery and superstition in which the author, who was a Dominican, expresses his own and rather primitive opinions on these subjects.

Very fine, clean and large copy with rough edges, in its original monastic binding.

Only one copy in U. S. A. (acc. to Census).

- 84 NIGER, FRANCISCUS. Modus epistolandi. Venice, Joannes Tacuinus, de Tridino, 1500.

4^{to}. Gothic and Roman letters, 40 lines, 32 unnn. ll. with sign., figured and fleural woodcut capitals, also Lombards. Old Vellum. Frs. 300.—

Hain*-Cop. 11884. Proctor 5463. Brit. Mus. Cat. V, p. 535.

Very interesting guide to the art of letter writing, which was very popular in the XVth century. Very rare, for most copies were destroyed as is the case with the similar hand-books issued to-day. This work of the famous Italian philologist (1450—1510) was very often printed in the XVth cent.

A few old MS. notes, otherwise well preserved.

No copy in U. S. A. (acc. to Census).

- 85 ORLANDINUS, RUDOLPHINUS, DE PASSAGERIIS. Summa artis notariae. Venice, Petrus de Quarengiis, Bergomensis, 1498.

4^{to}. Gothic letter in two sizes, 2 col., 40 lines, 98 unnn. ll. with sign., with ornate woodcut capitals. Old vellum. Frs. 360.—

Hain (without seeing it) 12088 who erroneously quotes as date „1497“. Copinger III, p. 277. Not in Proctor and the Brit. Mus. Cat.

Extremely rare interesting juristic work. The author lived at Bologna at end of the 13th cent. and created there the Collegium Notariorum. The work is a manual for advocates and notaries.

Well preserved copy, a few old marginal notes, the bottom blank margin of some leaves slightly waterstained, small wormhole running through the inner blank margin.

No copy in U. S. A. (acc. to Census) and the British Museum.

PRINTED BY THE FIRST PRINTER IN SWITZERLAND.

- 86 PARALDUS, GUIL. Summa de Vitiis s. Tractatus moralis. N. p. d. (Basel, Berthold Ruppel, c. 1471).

Fol. Goth. 352 ll. without foliation, sign. or catchwords, 34 lines, spaces left for capitals. Capitals supplied in red, rubricated. Bound in the original monastic binding of blind stamped brown calf over wooden boards, in centre of the upper side panel ornament of oak-leaves surrounded by three ornamental borders, double roses within circles in corners, on the under side a similar pattern with only two borders, on front-cover the original vellum title-label, two clasps (the leather of the under side damaged and rubbed).

Frs. 2000.—

Hain* 12385. Proctor 7449. Brit. Mus. Cat. III, 715.

Of high rarity like all specimens of Ruppel's press at Basel, the first press established in Switzerland. Berthold Ruppel, of Hanau, was one of the original workmen of Gutenberg, and figured as a witness in the lawsuit between Fust and Gutenberg in 1455. Printing was introduced by him into Basel not later than 1468, this being the date found in a copy of the Moralia in Job, now in the Bibl. Nation. at Paris.

This is a very fine copy, with large margins and almost uncut, of the rare and beautifully printed book, which was written by Guillaume de Peyraud, a French theologian and archbishop (?) of Lyons (died c. 1255). A few small wormholes at beginning and at end. Very interesting binding.

No copy in U. S. A. according to Census.

87 PAULUS DE SANCTA MARIA, Bishop of Burgos. Dialogus Pauli et Sauli contra Judaeos, sive Scrutinium Scripturarum. Mainz, Peter Schoeffer, 1478.

Fol. Gothic letter, 39 lines, 218 unnl. ll. of which l. 72 and 218 are blank, without sign., capital-spaces. Printed in red and blank. With the printer's device of Schoeffer at end printed in red. Original wooden boards, back covered with blind stamped brown calf, adorned with four ornate borders formed by ragged staffs entwined with foliage and a Holy Lamb within a rectangle (slightly rubbed).

Frs. 1800.—

Hain (without seeing it) -Cop. 10766. Proctor 114. Brit. Mus. Cat. I, p. 34.

Fine product from this famous press, nicely printed with the small type first used as the text type of Part II of the Grammatica of Brunner in 1468. The heading of the first text leaf, the full colophon and the printer's device are printed in red.

The author of this often printed diatribe against the Jews was Solomon Levi, a converted Jew, known as Paulus de Sancta Maria. He was one of the most passionate apostates against his former brethren. A former Rabbi, and a pillar of orthodoxy, on intimate terms with the great Talmudists of the age, he joined the Church, studied Christian theology, and quickly rose to the high position of Archbishop of Carthage, and then to that of Privy-Councillor of King Henry III. of Castille, and tutor of the infant Juan II. He devoted his great literary talents and mighty intellect to calumniate Jews and Judaism, and he used his influence to exclude his former coreligionists from every political office. Paul had gone to Paris to study, and then visited London, sending a Hebrew satire on Purim to Don Meir Alguades from that city. In 1406 he became Keeper of the Royal Seal, subsequently a member of the Regency of Castille, and Archbishop of Burgos. The chief object of the edict which he drafted as Chancellor of the Kingdom and which was promulgated in the name of the Regent at Valladolid in 1412, was the conversion of the Jews. This law, which consisted of 24 articles, was designed to separate the Jews entirely from the Christians, to paralyse their commerce, to humiliate them and to expose them to contempt, requiring them either to live within the close quarters of their Ghetto or to accept baptism. Impelled by his hatred of the Jews and Judaism, Paul, in the year preceding his death, composed this Dialogus Contra Judaeos, which subsequently served as a source for Alfonso de Spina and other Spanish writers hostile to Jews. (See Jewish Encyclopaedia).

On the blank of the last leaf, on the blank leaf 218 and on 3 added leaves is written a rather extensive register, dated at end: A^o dni M^occcc xcix.

Very large and clean copy, old marginal notes, a few small wormholes chiefly in blank margins.

Only one copy in U. S. A. (acc. to Census).

- 89 PETRARCA, FRANCESCO. De remediis utriusque fortunae. Cremona, Bernardinus de Misintis and Caesar Parmensis, 1492.

Fol. Roman letter, 43—45 long lines to the page, 165 unn. leaves, the first blank; with woodcut initial letter and woodcut printer's device at end. Half mottled calf. Frs. 900.—

Hain*-Cop. 12793. Proctor 6927.

First edition with date, the third book printed by this press. Only 3 other books were issued therefrom at Cremona. This work contains many „Dialogi“ of high interest for medicine: De aetate florida — de forma corporis — valitudine — aegritudinibus — viribus — memoria — conviviis — uxore fecunda — ortu filiorum — alchimia — tenui victu — uxore sterili — vulneribus acceptis — senectute — podagra — scabia — vigilia — egritudine dentium et tibiaram — caecitate — febris — dolore iliaco — veneno etc.

Some wormholes at beginning and at end, some stains in upper margins, otherwise a large and good copy.

- 90 (PETRUS PALUDANUS). Sermones thesauri novi de Sanctis. Strassburg, (Printer of the 1483 Vitas Patrum = ? Johannes Grüninger), 1484.

Fol. Gothic letter, 2 col., 46 lines and head-line, 310 unn. ll., with sign., capital spaces, ornamental capital in red and blue. Contemporary wooden boards, covered with blind-stamped brown calf (slightly wormed and rubbed). Frs. 300.—

Not in Hain. Copinger 5421. Proctor 421.

Fine and large copy in the original binding of this very rare book, printed by the unknown Printer of the Vitas Patrum, who is perhaps identical with Joh. Grüniger.

Some old MS. notes on the margins, a small wormhole in the first and the last ll.

Only one copy in U. S. A. (acc. to Census). No copy in the British Museum.

Printer's device from No. 93. Pogius, de nobilitate. Antwerp, Leeu, 1489.

- 91 PETRUS PALUDANUS. Sermones thesauri novi de sanctis. Basel, (Joannes Amerbach), 1485.

Fol. Gothic letter, 49 lines and head-line, 2 col., 275 unnl. ll., with sign., capital spaces, capitals and underlines supplied in red. Old MS. vellum, back covered with blind stamped pigskin. Frs. 300.—

Not in Hain. Copinger 5423. Reichling VI, p. 155.

Large and perfect copy with rough edges. Reichling VI, p. 155 wrongly states the number of leaves to be 278, giving an incorrect collation of the quires g, C, D, and E. The quires g, C, and D have 10 leaves, the quire E does not originally exist. The printer has therefore put the omitted signature E on l. F^s v. Copinger quotes only 274 ll.

Some old MS. notes on margins. Very rare.

No copy in the British Museum and in the Bodleian libr.

2 copies in U. S. A. according to Census.

- 92 PHILELPHUS, FRANCISCUS. Epistolae familiares. Venice, Joannes Tacuinus, de Tridino, 1498.

Fol. Rom. and Greek letters, 62 lines, 87 numb. ll., 1 unnl. l. With numerous historiated and ornate woodcut initials and the printer's device at end. Old vellum. Frs. 300.—

Hain*-Cop. 12947. Proctor 5454. Not in the Brit. Mus. Cat.

Good edition of the important collection of letters of the famous Italian philosopher and orator. Many letters are addressed to famous philosophers and physicians, e. g.: Petrus Thomasius, Nic. Faba, Petrus Joannetus, Mattholo, Ant. Bernaregio, Nic. Varoni, Thom. Coronaeo etc. The first letter of the 6th book is addressed to Ladislaus, King of Hungary.

Quite complete copy, rather wormed in places.

No copy in the British Museum.

- 93 POGGIUS, JOHANNES FRANCISCUS, Florentinus. De nobilitate. Antwerp, Gerard Leeu, 1489.

4to. Gothic letter of 35 long lines, 18 ll.; with woodcut-initials and the large woodcut-device of G. Leeu representing the Castle of Antwerp, on the last page. Vellum. Frs. 2000.—

Hain*-Cop. 13206. Proctor 9385. Campbell 1427.

The extremely rare first edition with date of this moral essay. One of the rarest products of the press of Gerardus Leeu who began printing at Antwerp in 1484. The large woodcut-device was cut by the „First Antwerp Woodcutter“ (Conway p. 228, 2).

The author Gian Francesco Poggio Bracciolini, Italian scholar of the Renaissance, lived from 1380 to 1459. His essays were very popular among Italian scholars.

Clean and large copy.

No copy in U. S. A. (according to Census).

Hain (without seeing it) -Cop. 13356. Reichling III, p. 157. Proctor 4041. Brit. Mus. Cat. V, p. 160. Not in Proctor, The Printing of Greek.

One of the finest and rarest productions of the press of Vindelinius de Spira who continued this first Venetian press after the death of his brother Johannes. The first edition in which the fine Greek type is used for the Greek passages, they having been left blank in the earlier edition of 1470.

These „Opera“ contain at first the important work „Institutiones grammaticae“ being a systematic exposition of Latin grammar dedicated to Julian, consul and patrician. The work is divided into 18 books, of which the first sixteen deal mainly with sounds, word-formation and inflexions; the last two, which form almost a third of the whole work, deal with syntax.

After this chief work follow some interesting treatises, dedicated to Symmachus, on weights and measures, the metres of Terence, and some rhetorical elements. At the end follow the commentary of Ruffinus „De metris Comicis“ and a very interesting translation of Priscian of Dionysius's Periegesis or geographical survey of the world in hexameters.

The author, Priscianus, lived about 500 A. D. somewhat before Justinian.

Exceptionally fine and very large and clean copy in unusually first rate condition.

No copy in U. S. A. (acc. to Census). The two copies in the British Museum are imperfect.

95 PSALTERIUM LATINO-GERMANICUM. Augsburg, Erhard Ratdolt, 1499.

Sm.-4^{to}. Finely printed in red and black with gothic letters of two sizes, 27 and 45 lines, 14 unnl., CX numb., 1 unnl. = 125 ll., the second blank. With 13 large very beautiful woodcut-initials (3 repeat.), at end the device of Ratdolt printed in red and black. (See Weil, Dt. Druckerzeichen d. XV. Jahrh. p. 33). Contemporary wooden boards, the back covered with brown calf, a clasp. Frs. 1500.—

Hain* 13511. Proctor 1914. Brit. Mus. Cat. II, p. 390. Murray German Cat. no. 346. Bohatta, Liturg. Drucke 588. Bohatta Cat. Parma II, 374. Zapf I, 131, 7. Voulliéme, Berlin 313.

Fourth edition of the Psalter in Latin and German, the second by Ratdolt. Finely printed Latin text, surrounded by the German translation printed in the outer and lower margins. The woodcut-initials occur as follows: David playing the harp; playing lute and bells; a king; a queen; „salvum me fac.“; choir; Deposition; Christ shown to the people; Crucifixion; piercing Christ's side. With a few old MS.-annotations on margins; slightly stained, at end two small wormholes, otherwise a perfect copy remarkable for its beautiful initials.

Only one copy in U. S. A. (acc. to Census).

No. 95. Psalterium latino-germ.

- 96 REGIOMONTANUS SEU JOHANN MÜLLER OF KÖNIGSBERG. Kalender (auf die Jahre 1489—1530) Augsburg, Erhard Ratdolt, 1489.

4^{to}. Gothic letter, 30 unnl. ll. without sign., rubricated throughout. Printed in red and black. With 12 nice woodcuts, representing the signs of the zodiac, many cuts of eclipses, printed in red and black, 4 full-page astronomical diagrams and many very nice ornate Venetian woodcut initials on black ground by Bernhard Maler. Old vellum. Frs. 2000.—

Hain*-Cop. 13787. Not in Proctor and the Brit. Mus. Cat. Sudhoff, Deutsche medizinische Inkunabeln 265. Schreiber V, 4371.

Extremely rare German edition of a calender by the famous astronomer Johannes Regiomontanus.

On verso of the title we find eight verses to the reader, in praise of the work, on l. a¹ follows the „Tafel der land vnd stet“. The Kalendarium commences on l. a² v. The description of the eclipses of sun and moon begins on l. b¹ v, illustrated by 40 cuts printed in red and black. Then follows on l. c¹ v: Wie man den neuen mon vnd vol mon vinden sol. On l. c²: Von der sunnen vnd des mons vinsternuß. On l. c³ v begins the interesting chapter on sun-dial: Wie man ain sunnevr machen sol. On l. c⁴ we find the chapter: Von eigenschafft der xij. zaichen, illustrated by 12 nice cuts. On l. c⁵ v follows: Eigenschafft der siben planeten. At end there are four large astronomical and astrological diagrams: Instrument der planeten stund. Instrument des waren lauffs des Mones. Quadrans horologitl horizontalis. Quadratum horarium generale. These four diagrams are printed on four leaves, stuck together in pairs; on the invisible parts of these leaves the same diagrams are also printed. The movable piece belonging to the last diagram is wanting.

Quite perfect copy of this rare and finely printed German calendar. The first ll. are rather wormed with loss of a few letters and in blank margins. Old MS. notes, partly erased. The blank space of title-leaf is blotted with black ink.

No copy in U. S. A. (acc. to Census) and the British Museum.

- 97 ROLEWINCK, WERNER. Fasciculus temporum, German: Ein Cronica von Anfang der Welt biss auf die jar Christi 1492. N. p. d. (Strassburg, Johann Prüss, 1492).

Fol. Gothic letter, 44 lines, 14 unnl., 126 numb. ll. with sign. With a full-page woodcut representing a blind beggar on verso of title, and some interesting cuts mostly representing views of towns (repeated), scenes of the Old Testament, monsters and comets, and a large woodcut capital. Old half-calf. Frs. 600.—

Hain*-Cop. 6940. Proctor 549. Brit. Mus. Cat. 1, p. 123. Schreiber V, 5122. Baer, Die Illustrierten Historienbücher, p. 70 and p. XXII, no. 123. Sudhoff, Deutsche medizinische Inkunabeln 103. Cat. Hawkins 26.

The interesting second German edition of this famous chronicle. This edition is continued up to the year 1492. Some cuts are here printed for the first time: On l. B³ Durch subtile bildung seint abgötterey vffkommen; on l. B⁶ Wie Joseph verkaufft ward; on l. C² v Hercules; on l. D⁴ The stoning of Zacharias. The curious large cut on l. 1 v represents a blind beggar with a staff and a rosary. The other cuts in the text represent the Ark, the Tower of Babel, the view of Nineveh, Rome, Syracuse etc., the Salvator (l. numb. 49), a dog-man, and a comet.

*The Fasciculus Temporum, a summary of universal history, with fuller notes on recent events, was written by Werner Rolewinck, a Carthusian of Cologne, who . . . lived till 1502. The first edition of the Fasciculus was printed in 1474 by Therhoernen." (Cat. Hawkins p. 19.)

Well preserved copy, a small wormhole running through the top of the blank margin, in l. T¹ a rent repaired without any loss of text. The cuts are in this copy all uncoloured.

- 98 SACRO BOSCO, JOHANNES DE, (John Holywood) of Halifax. Sphaera mundi, cum commento Wenceslai Fabri de Budweiss. Leipzig, Wolfgang Stöckel, 1499.

4^{to}. Gothic letter, 39 lines, 50 ll. with sign., the last blank. Capital spaces. With a full-page woodcut on verso of the title, 27 very interesting astronomical woodcut diagrams, comprising two maps of the world, and the printer's device at end. Old Vellum. Frs. 1000.—

Hain (not seen) -Cop. 14123. Proctor 3065. Brit. Mus. Cat. III, p. 655. Schreiber 4392.

Very rare edition of this important cosmographical work. The full-page woodcut on verso of title represents the „sphaera mundi“ supported by two angels. The very interesting woodcut diagrams represent constellations, eclipses and geometrical figures, on l. E⁴ and H¹ there are two very curious maps of the world showing Asia, Africa, and Europe. The lettering in all these diagrams is also in woodcut.

The author, Joh. de Sacro Bosco, lived in the 13th cent. He studied at Oxford and was afterwards professor of mathematics at the University of Paris. His work „de sphaera“ was the second astronomical work to be printed. It gained a great reputation at that time.

Large copy, a few old marginal notes, the last ll. stained, in the two last ll. a wormhole with loss of a few letters.

2 copies in U. S. A. (acc. to Census).

EDITIO PRINCEPS.

Magnificent specimen of an delicately printed product from the Neapolitan press of Moravus, with full colophon. It is the second product from this press printed with its fine first Roman type.

*The Moral Works and the Epistles of Seneca were published by different printers, in separate publications, during the same year, namely 1475. Count Reviczky thought that, as the edition of the Epistles by Pannartz was published in Febr. 1475, it should claim chronological precedence; but the very opposite inference must be drawn. The Parisian impression of the Epistles, of 1475, does not specify the month in the colophon; and therefore it may not be any violation of chronological order to give precedence to the present production. The rarity and worth of this first impression of the entire Moral Works and Epistles of Seneca, are acknowledged to be considerable. . . . This edition exhibits the grandest specimen of the Roman type of Moravus with which I am acquainted" (Dibdin, Bibl. Spenc.)

Our copy is erroneously dated M.C.LXXIIIIII. Dibdin says in his "Introduction to the Greek and Roman Classics", p. 204: "This is a very rare and valuable production, some copies are thus dated M. C. LXXIIII, leaving out the intermediate four cccc. The error was discovered after a very few struck off and the greater part, therefore has the following regular subscription MCCCCLXXIIII. The curious prefer those that have the omis of the four CCCC on account of their rarity."

Unusually fine and large copy from the famous Library of the Earl of Sunderland with its exlibris and with another exlibris of the Rosswinans library. At beginning and at end a few insignificant wormholes. With note of ownership of Stephanus Baluzius Tutelensis (Etienne Baluze), French scholar, born in 1630. From 1667 until 1700 he was in charge of the invaluable library belonging to Colbert. In 1689 he was appointed professor of Canon law at the Collège de France. He died in 1718.

Exceptionally fine and fresh copy with large margins, a few small wormholes at beginning and at end.

99 SENECA, L. A. Opera. Treviso, Bernhard of Cologne, 1478.

Fol. Printed in a beautiful gothic letter, 53 lines to a full-page, 214 unnl. leaves with sign., the last blank cut away, capital spaces. Contemporary wooden boards, the back covered with brown leather, partly rebaked, clasps gone. Frs. 1500.—

Hain-Cop.* 14591. Proctor 6484.

Of great rarity. Only three books are known to have been produced by this printer: an edition of Maius in 1477, an undated pamphlet on the quarrel between the Pope and the Florentines, and the above volume which is printed in a very neat Gothic type identical in appearance with Johann of Amerbach's second type and Koberger's twenty-first. This is a very fine well preserved copy of this exquisite piece of printing with exceptionally large margins.

On the first blank leaf note of ownership partly erased: Ad bibliothecam fratrum apud . . . spectat liber iste datus a domino Johane schawr etc. parte testamenti domini Friderici prener olim Capellani sancte Catherine In Runkada Anno domini millesimo quingentesimo vicesimo secundo. In the text some old marginal pen-notes.

Fine, large and clean copy of this second edition of the works of Seneca.

100 SENECA, L. A. Epistolae. Opera philosophica. — Marcus Annaeus Seneca. Suasoriae et controversiae. Venice, Bernardinus de Choris, de Cremona, 1492.

Fol. Roman and gothic letters, 62 lines and head-line, 2 unnl., 208 numb. ll., with sign., capitals supplied in red and green. Contemporary blind stamped brown calf. On the upper side of the front cover the title stamped: opera seneca. (Slightly rubbed.) Frs. 240.—

Hain*-Cop. 14594. Proctor 5221. Brit. Mus. Cat. V, p. 466.

Large and complete copy of principal works of Seneca, the rhetorician, and Seneca the philosopher. The ten books „Controversiae“ of the elder Seneca are a collection of various school themes and their treatment by Greek and Roman orators. Some chapters of the „Epistolae“ of Seneca the philosopher are of some medical interest: lilii. De morbo suspirii vel anheltus etc.

Many underlines and marginal notes by an old hand, the first ll. stained. The blank margin of the two first l. slightly damaged. Note of ownership on the title.

101 SIBYLLA, BARTHOLOMAEUS. Speculum peregrinarum quaestionum ad Alfonsum de Aragonia. Strassburg, Johann Grüninger, 1499.

Fol. Gothic and Roman letters, 31 lines and head-line, 10 unnl. ll., 253 numb. ll., capital spaces with guide-letters. With full-page title-woodcut. MS.-Vellum. Frs. 400.—

Hain-Cop. 14720. Proctor 490. Brit. Mus. Cat. I, p. 113. Schmidt, Grüninger 44. Schreiber V, 5246. Kristeller, Strassburger Bücherillustr. 86.

Interesting work on daemonology, dedicated to Alfonso of Aragon, Duke of Calabria.

Bartholomaeus Sibylla, Italian theologian of the Dominican order, was born at Monopoli, and died in 1490.

The first ll. slightly stained, the upper margins of a few ll. with insignificant damage of the headlines rather short cut, a few wormholes in blank margins, otherwise a clean and nice copy.

See Reproduction, plate XV.

- 102 STRABO. Geographiae libri XVI. Translated by Guarinus Veronensis and Gregorius Tifernas. Rome, Conradus Sweynheym and Arnoldus Pannartz, 1473.

Fol. Roman and Greek letters, 45 and 46 lines, 240 unnl., the first blank, without sign., capital spaces. With a very nice and delicately painted floral border in several colours and gold and 17 finely illuminated large initials painted in colours and heightened with gold, and some capitals supplied in red and blue. Bound in the original monastery binding of wooden boards covered with blind stamped brown calf, the whole panel of the sides divided into double ogee shaped compartments, filled with conventional flowers, surrounded by a small ornamental border, catches for clasps (clasps wanting). Frs. 9000.—

Hain (without seeing it) 15088. Reichling I, p. 196. Not in Proctor and the Brit. Mus. Cat. Superb and extremely rare product of the first press of Rome in an exceptionally fine, illuminated copy.

This „Geographia“ is the most important work on that science which antiquity has left us. It was the first attempt to collect all the geographical knowledge at the time attainable, and to compose a general treatise on geography. Strabo was the first who conceived this work as comprising the four divisions of mathematical, physical, political and historical geography. The work contains incidental historical notices, being often of great value and interest. He designed the work for the statesman rather than for the student. He therefore endeavours to give a general sketch of the character, physical peculiarities and natural productions of each country, and gives us much valuable information respecting ethnology, trade and metallurgy. With respect to physical geography, this work is a great advance on all preceding ones.

The work consists of 17 books, two are introductory, eight deal with Europe, one with the main divisions of Asia, three with Asia Minor, the last three with India, Persia, Assyria, Babylonia, Syria, Arabia, Egypt, and Africa.

Strabo lived in the first century B. C.

Unusually fine and large copy in the best condition and in the finely preserved original binding. The beautiful painted border and the very nice initials are in very fresh state.

No copy in U. S. A. (acc. to Census) and the British Museum.

See Reproductions, plates XL & XLI.

- 103 THESAURISATIO IN COELIS. Nuremberg, Friedrich Creussner, 1488.

8vo. Finely printed in gothic char., 23 lines, 64 unnl. leaves without sign., capitals supplied in red and blue. Vellum. Frs. 750.—

Hain* 15492. Not in Proctor.

EDITIO PRINCEPS of this extremely rare finely printed incunabulum in small size.

Nice and clean copy. The blank leaf 56 v scribbled on. The two last leaves wormed on white margins.

No copy in U. S. A. (acc. to Census) nor in the British Museum.

- 104 THOMAS DE AQUINO. Tractatus de arte et vero modo praedicandi. N. p. d. (Nuremberg, Friedrich Creussner, ca. 1476).

Fol. Gothic letter, 38 lines, 8 unnl. leaves without sign., capital spaces. Old vellum. Frs. 300.—

Hain* 1361. Not in Proctor and the Brit. Mus. Cat.

Extremely rare and early product from Creussner, printed with his first type (according to Haebler).

The last words on the last leaf are: Sequitur arbor. But the copy described by Hain has not this arbor and Schreiber has not mentioned this edition. Therefore the arbor was surely never printed.

Very large copy, the bottom of the blank margin slightly waterstained.

No copy in the British Museum. Only one copy in U. S. A. (acc. to Census).

- 105 TRITHEIM, JOHANN. De laudibus sanctissimae matris Annae. Leipzig, Melchior Lotter, n. d. (ca. 1500).
4to. Gothic letter, 42 lines, 24 unnl. ll. with sign., capital spaces. Hf. vellum.
Frs. 240.—
Hain* 15631 (with a number of small variants). Proctor 3048. Brit. Mus. Cat. III, p. 652.
Rare product of Melchior Lotter, printed in three types.
Large copy, somewhat browned. The quire D is found twice in this copy.
Only one copy in U. S. A. (acc. to Census). The copy of the British Museum is imperfect.
- 106 VALLIBUS, HIERONYMUS DE, Paduanus. Jesuida seu Tractatus carminibus conscriptus de passione Domini. Leipzig, Jacob Thanner, 1500.
4to. Gothic letter, 18 lines, 16 unnl. ll. with sign., capital spaces with guide-letters. Old Vellum.
Frs. 360.—
Hain 15844 (without seeing it). Not in Proctor and the Brit. Mus. Cat.
Extremely rare. The second dated edition of this short sacred epic, written about 1430, which was several times printed in the XVth century.
Large copy, partly with rough edges, spaces and blank margins scribbled on by an old hand, leaf 15 spotted.
No copy in the British Museum and the Bodleiana. Only one copy in U. S. A. (acc. to Census).
- 107 VERGILIUS MARO, PUBLIUS. Georgica cum commentario Hermanni Torrentini. Köln, Heinrich Quentell, 1499.
4to. Roman and goth. letters, 81 numb., 3 unnl. ll. with sign., index in 3 col. With a nice woodcut at end: The arrival of the three Magi. Originally blind stamped calf over wooden boards with nice stamps, in centre a vertical band filled in with an eagle within a shield and a panel of small stamps of flowers, surrounded by three borders adorned with small leaves and flowers within a circle, in upper frame the stamped title: Uergilius, two catches for clasps (slightly rubbed.)
Frs. 600.—
Not in Hain. Copinger 6150. Proctor 1362. Not in the Brit. Mus. Cat. Voulliéme, Buchdruck Kölns 1207. Schreiber 5422. Copinger, Incunabula Virgiliiana 154.
Fine copy of this edition with the nice woodcut in very fresh state, here probably printed for the first time. The Holy Virgin with the Child is sitting on the right side, the three Magi with their suite are arriving from three different sides, in background a village.
A few old marginal notes.
No copy in the British Museum. Only one copy in U. S. A. (acc. to Census).
- 108 VORAGINE, JACOBUS DE. Sermones dominicales. N. p. d. (Strassburg, C. W. civis Argentinensis, not after 1474).
Fol. Gothic letter, 34 lines, 335 unnl. ll. without sign., capital spaces. Old vellum, on the front-cover the Supra-Libros of an abbot, in gold with the initials PAZL.
Frs. 400.—
Not in Hain, Proctor and the Brit. Mus. Cat. Copinger 6350 (erroneously quoting 136 ll.). Reichling Suppl. no. 218. Pellechet, Voragine 157.
Extremely rare edition of these important sermons. The book is printed with the interesting large Gothic text type of the printer C. W., who produced only a few books during the years 1473 and 1474. The copy of this book at the Library of Solothurn has the rubricator's date "1474".
Large copy with many MS. marginal notes, a few leaves slightly browned, the top of leaf 329 damaged and repaired with loss of nearly four lines, the upper blank margin slightly waterstained in places.
Only one copy in U. S. A. (acc. to Census). No copy in the British Museum.

XVITH CENTURY BOOKS.

- 109 De accentuum ecclesiasticorum exquisita ratione, sc. Lectionali, Epistolari, & Euangelico, Libellus. Cracoviae, Matthias Scharffenberg, n. d. (about 1540). 8vo. 54 unn. ll. W. woodc. musical notation. Bds. Frs. 60.—
Not in Estreicher or Wierzbowski.
Very interesting for musical history with many musical notes on 2—5 lines staff printed with woodc. types. On Fol. G₃—₃ „De accentibus graecorum“ and „Pauca de accentibus hebraicis“ with Greek and Hebrew letters. Fol. G₇ vo. begins the hymn to S. Stanislaus with notes for 4 voices.
- 110 Arator. In actus Apostolorum. N. p. d. (Strassburg, Joh. Grüninger, ca. 1507). 8vo. With nice printer's device on title. Bds. Frs. 30.—
Not in Panzer, nor Proctor. Schmidt, Grüninger 82. Rare edition of this early christian poem. The author, Arator of Liguria, lived during the 6th cent.
- 111 (Augustus Moravus.) Catalogus Episcoporum Olomucensium. Viennae Pannoniae ab Hier. Philoualle et Joh. Singrenio (1511). 4^{to}. 12 leaves. Bds. Frs. 120.—
Denis, Wiens Buchdruckergeschichte p. 308, no. 319.
An excessively rare tract giving the names of 39 bishops of Olmütz in Moravia beginning with St. Cyrillus and ends with bishop Stanislaus (ab. 1511).
This book is very interesting also from historical point of view giving facts etc. relating to the history of Bohemia, Hungary and Poland. The letter of the author to bishop Stanislaus is dated Buda, VII. Nonas Decembri.
Fine copy, slightly stained.
- 112 Biblia Germanica. Die ganzte Bibel, verteutschet. Zürich, Christ. Froschauer, 1530. 8vo. 688 numb. ll., 2 unn. ll. With 2 printer's devices and woodcut initials. Old blind-tooled brown calf with ornamental borders, on the front-cover the date 1565. Frs. 360.—
Panzer, Entwurf einer Geschichte der deutsch. Bibelübersetzung p. 270, 4. Goeze p. 231, no. 343.
The first edition of this very rare Froschauer-Bible; in Octavo printed in one volume. Goeze says: Sie gehört unter die seltensten Ausgaben der Züricher Bibeln. The text is in Swiss dialect.
Marginal notes, notes of ownership on title, the upper margin of the title scribbled on. The first and the last ll. stained, otherwise a quite perfect copy in its original binding. The capitals and initials are painted over with red.
No copy in the British Museum (not no. 3035 aa. 18, described in the Catalogue of Printed Books. Bible. I. p. 191).
- 113 Biblia Latina. Biblia sacra utriusque sacramenti. Nuremberg, Fridericus Peypus, 1530. Fol. With large figured handsome title-border, a full-page woodcut on the last leaf by Albrecht Dürer, another nearly full-page woodcut by Hans Springinkle (signed), 77 smaller woodcuts in the text by Springinkle and Erhard Schön, and numerous ornamental and figured initials. Contemporary blind stamped black calf over wooden boards (rubbed, back partly damaged). Frs. 450.—

Panzer VII, 476, 270. Muther 1184. Not in Dodgson.

Rare edition of the finely illustrated so-called „Peypus-Bible“. The beautiful cut by Dürer (Dodgson I, p. 266. Friedländer, Dürer als Kupferstecher p. 125.) with the inscription SANCTA | IVSTICIA |. 1521. | represents two angels supporting the Imperial Arms and the arms of Nuremberg, above this two femal allegorical figures. The fine large cut by Springinkle (signed HSK) shows the Nativity. (Dodgson I, p. 409, 79.) The nice cut on f. 9, the Creation of Eve, is also by Springinkle, placed between two upright panels of ornament (Dodgson I, 377, 21 and 23). The handsome titleborder, probably also by Springinkle, represents on the top the „Salvator“, on the left and the right sides the evangelists, and beneath „Ecclesia Christiana“ and „Ecclesia Antichristi“.

All the cuts are in very fine impressions. The title-border is here printed for the first time.

Quite complete copy, the first leaf slightly damaged in blank margin, a few small wormholes in the beginning and at end. Notes of ownership on title.

See Reproduction, plate XVI.

- 114 Boccaccio, Joa. De Claris Mulieribus (in German, transl. by Henr. Steinhövel). Title: Ein schöne Cronica oder Hystoribuch, von den fürnämlichsten Weybern, so von Adams Zeyten an geweszt . . . Augsburg, H. Stayner, 1543. fol. 6 unu. + 90 numb. leaves with sign. Large woodcut on title and 2 other remarkable and large cuts by Leonh. Beck; at beginning of text a large cut by Schäufelein, repres. Adam and Eve; besides these 77 smaller ones by Jörg Breu. Contemp. binding of wooden boards, back and half of sides covered with blind-stamped pigskin, 2 engr. clasps. Frs. 400.—

Goedeke I, 399, 3, 5. Muther 930. Apparently no copy in the British Museum (see Dodgson II, p. 3 sqq).

A finely illustrated volume and possibly the last edition of Steinhövel's translation; the present edition contains 3 biographies more than the first of 1479. There are numerous nice woodcuts depicting scenes from the lives of the famous women described in the text. Among the cuts one of Pope Joan giving birth to a child.

Slightly stained in places, browned throughout, but a good copy with fresh impressions of the cuts. One leaf mended in lower right-hand corner causing a small loss of text. On leaf XVII some words traced with ink. Two leaves (B₃ and B₄) have been transposed in binding.

- 115 S. Bonaventura. Der Spygel der tzucht voll treflicher lere unnd spruche. Leipzig, Melchior Lotter, 1510. 4^{to}. 4 unu. ll., 95 numb. ll., 1 l. blank. MS. vellum. Frs. 50.—

Not in Proctor. Weller, Repertorium 540. The first German edition of this „Speculum“, translated by a Dominican of a monastery at Leipzig. Very rare.

Quite complete copy. A few leaves slightly stained in margins. Notes of ownership on title.

- 116 Breviarium Frisingense. Pars Estivalis. Venetijs, cura Petri Liechtenstein. Impensa Joannis Oswald, 1516. Goth. printed in red and black, 364 ll. With 1 large woodc. on title page, 5 fine full-page woodc. and 4 figur. borders at the beginning of the 4 chapters. Stamped pigskin on wooden boards, 2 clasps. Frs. 240.—

Panzer VIII, 434, 797; X, 43, 797 b. Essling II, 343. Alts 62.

The title woodc., the Virgin with the Child, SS. Corbinianus and Sigismundus, is coloured similar to 2 large woodc. and 2 borders. The full-page woodcuts repr. the crucifixion, the resurrection and the saints (twice), they are surrounded by a small floral border.

MS. notes a the beginning and at end on first and last blank ll.

Rare breviary in good preservation.

- 117 Breviarium Pataviense. Venetijs, cura Petri Liechtenstein, impensa Leonardi et Luce Allantse, 1515, 26. Jul. et 25. Maij. 8^{vo}. goth., printed in red and black. Pars hiem. et aestiv. in 1 vol. 10 (out of 12) un., 371 (out of 376) n., 254 n. = 635 (out of 642) ll. W. 5 full-page woodcuts, 5 woodc. borders and many small figures in the text. Roll-stamped pigskin on wooden boards, 6 embossed brass-pieces in corners, 2 centre-pieces, two catches, the upper wooden boards broken. Frs. 150.—

Essling II, 335, 970. Rivoli p. 287. Panzer X, 42, 732 b. Not in Proctor. In the British Museum is only the pars hiemalis, in the Library of the Duke of Parma only the pars aestivalis.

The fine 5 full-page woodcuts repr. King David (Fol. 4 v), Annunciation (96 v.), Crucifixion (124 v), Resurrection (132 v), and the Saints (200 v). The borders consist of 8 small compartments with scenes from the Old and New Testaments.

Unfortunately 2 ll. (1 and 8) of the first quire, and 5 (3, 81, 88, 89, 297) of the pars hiemalis are missing, fol. 79 dam. with loss of text, first 7 ll. dam. on blank margin.

Essling quotes an edition in 2 parts, therefore the prel. 12 ll. and the psalterium are to be found twice. Our copy, bound in 1 vol. has these parts only once, as is usual in the editions published in one vol.

- 118 Breviarium Romano-Germanicum. Teutsch-Römisch Brevier (Frangipani-Brevier). Venice, Gregorius de Gregoriis, 31 oct. 1518. 4^{to}. Finely printed in gothic letter in red and black. 514 numbered leaves with sign. 2 columns of 38 lines. With 11 finely executed large woodcuts, 5 of them signed „ia“ and „Za“ by Zoan Andrea Vavassore, 12 woodcut-borders, the twelve occupations of the months in the Calendar and numerous woodcut initials of different sizes in the text. Magnificent original binding, wooden boards covered with richly blind-stamped velummised hog-skin, on the upper side vertical panel divided into double ogee shaped compartments, adorned with flower ornaments and a nice ternate flower within a lozenge; the panel is surrounded by a frame outlined by four fillets, adorned with a succession of lozenge-shaped ornamented stamps, double roses in corners, on the under side the same panel, surrounded by a frame adorned with stamps of ternate flowers within a lozenge, two clasps. Frs. 4000.—

Brunet I, 1243. Suppl. I, 172. Essling II, 352, no. 988. Rivoli p. 269/99. Bohatta, Parma-Bibl. I, no. 233. Nagler, Künstlerlexikon vol. XIX, p. 484. Apponyi no. 131.

A remarkable interesting and rare liturgical book, containing the complete Roman Breviary, translated word for word into German by Count Christopher Frangipani. In the preface and in the very explicit colophon (in German) we learn all the circumstances attending the production of this curious book. Count Christopher Frangipani prince of the Holy Roman Empire, had followed the Emperor Maximilian in his campaign against the Venetians, was captured and held as a prisoner of war in the fortress of "Dorasel" (Torcello) near Venice for several years. His wife came to join him there and they are both portrayed kneeling in prayer beneath a woodcut of the Coronation of the Virgin, which is repeated twice in this book. During his captivity the Count translated the Roman Breviary into German, had the text supervised by Friar Jacob Wyg of Colmar, and the book printed at his own expense by Master Gregor de Gregoriis, 400 copies of which were distributed to such pious persons as were willing to pray for him and his release.

The extraordinary scarcity of this work is sufficiently evident from the fact that only 400 copies were printed over 400 years ago.

A wonderful copy, absolutely untouched and in its pristine state.

- 119 Canon sacratissime misse. Nürnberg, Hieron. Hölzel, 1513. 4^{to}. With a fine woodcut showing St. Jerome. 20 leaves. Bds. Frs. 80.—

Contains the same woodcut as the „Tractatus de horis“ (see no. 129 of this catalogue). but Dodgson does not mention this book, only enumerating six others containing this cut.

See Reproduction, plate XIX.

- 120 Columbus, Reald. Cremonensis. De Re Anatomica, lib. XV. Venet. 1559. fol. W. beautiful woodcut title: a surgeon lecturing in an anatomical theatre a. num, initials. Bds. Frs. 400.—

Brunet II, 162.

First edition of this rare and very interesting medical work of a pupil of Vesalius. Columbus distinguished himself by rectifying and improving the anatomy of the bones, by giving correct accounts of the shape and cavities of the heart, of the pulmonary artery etc. and tracing the course of the blood from the right to the left side of the heart, by a good description of the brain and its vessels, and by correct understandig of the internal ear, and the first good account of the ventricles of the larynx. Colombo was born at the beginning of the XVIth century and died about 1560.

Good and clean copy of this rare work. The right margin of the title mounted and slightly repaired, the first leaves insignificantly stained in margins.

See Reproduction, plate XVII.

- 121 (Columna, Franc.) La Hypnerotomachia di Poliphilo. Venetia, Figliuoli di Aldo, 1545. Small-fol. Beautifully printed in Roman letter, 39 long lines to a page, 234 unnl. with sign. With 170 exquisite woodcuts in outline from the same blocks as used in the 1st edition of 1499 (mostly occupying half the page, some larger), the designs attributed variously to Mantegna, Bellini and Botticelli. Printer's mark on title and at end. Limp vellum. Frs. 1000.—

The second edition of the most beautiful of all woodcut-books, an exact, line for line reprint of the first edition, in similar type and with the identical woodcuts. The only two differences between the editions are, the second ed. having the first titlepage in Italian (the original Latin one being on sig. a₁) and small guide letters being substituted for the large floral initials of the first ed. These initials being read from the beginning to the end of the book give the clue to the names of the author and his innamorata, viz.: Poliam Frater Franciscus peramavit. (Brother Francesco Colonna greatly loved Polia).

Of course, the whole „Strife of Love in a Dream“ is an allegory, but one of an extraordinary kind: an archaeological love-story full of dreams and visions of a mythological and antiquarian nature, introducing numerous mythological and ornamental subjects, amatory emblems, symbols of reproduction and fecundity, more or less veiled, inclusive of those purely Phallic.

At the beginning the copy is somewhat stained by use on lower margin and slightly damaged and repaired at the lower corner, but there is no loss of text; otherwise in good condition. The impressions of the cuts are very fine. The phallus on m₆ is scribbled on with a pen.

This second edition is of the greatest rarity; it is more rare than the first edition of 1499 and is also one of the most famous books in the annals of Venetian printing.

Old calf, back dam., 1 clasp gone. Frs. 600.—

Woodcut from No. 135.

This is the only copy known, not mentioned by any bibliographer. This elaborately illustrated edition finely printed by Peter Schoeffer the younger in red and black contains 84 nice woodcuts by several artists. Every page is within an ornamental and figurated border of four pieces. The very curious title-cut represents an angel accompanying a Soul through the celestial vineyard, the calendar contains the 12 representations of the months, every cut with two scenes. On l. 10 v follows the „Lobtefelein oder der zwölf zeichen“, on l. 11v and 12 the woodcuts of Sun and Moon for finding Golden Numbers. Table of movable Feasts on next two pages. On l. 14 follows the Register, finished on l. 16v by mnemonic verses on the Seasons, Fastings etc. The devotional part commences on l. 17 with the large cut of the Annunciation. There are 55 cuts of different sizes and by different artists, mostly in very good and fresh impressions. Several are of very remarkable design, many of them in the manner of the famous cuts by Springinklee. The cuts represent Saints and their attributes, scenes from the Passion etc. On l. P 7v are commencing the Prayers before and after Communion etc. At end the device of Schoeffer. The nice borders, partly on black ground crible, surrounding the pages represent many different scenes, playing children, arms, landscapes with birds and stags, masks, putti, etc.

Some leaves are stained by use, in the first leaf, leaf Dⁿ, and in the last leaf rents without any loss of text, the margin of l. E repaired with loss of a very small insignificant piece of the bottom right corner of the border, but on the whole this is a fine copy of this Unicum. Inside front-cover there is an armorial book-plate finely painted in gold and different colours by an old hand with the inscription: S. OGWZGENI.

Proctor 11918. Panzer I. 553. Muther 764.

An interesting German woodcut-book. It is the second and last book printed at Wessobrunn in Bavaria during the XVIth century, the first being a collection of 5 songs (14 ll., see Weller 262) printed 1503 by the same printer.

The book itself was written by Joh. Nider, a Dominican, who died in 1438, and is a compilation from the Collationes patrum of Joannes Cassianus, which he gives in a liberal German translation, partly with reductions, partly with enlargements.

Inside front-cover an armorial bookplate of the monastery Thierhaupten with the date 1587. See Hamilton, Dated Book-plates I. p. 4.

At the beginning and end somewhat stained and wormed.

(At end): Viennae Austriae per Hieronymum Vietorem. N. d. (1528). 4^{to}. 52 unn. pp. With an ecliptic woodcut. Boards. Frs. 360.—

Panzer IX., p. 61, no. 353. Denis, Wiens Buchdruckergeschichte p. 351, no 368. Graesse V, p. 203.

Extremely rare and interesting edition. „Perlach trat in die Fußstapfen unsers großen Regiomontans . . ." (Denis p. 352).

The work is dedicated to Ferdinand, king of Hungary. It contains in the beginning a table of the lunar revolution, an explanation of the astronomical signs used in the Ephemerides, and a table of the position of towns. On l. 6 the Ephemerides commence.

Copy of the library of Wilibald Pirckheimer, the famous friend of Albrecht Dürer with the MS. dedication on title written by the author: Eruditissimo Viro Bilibaldo Pirckhamero patricio / Norimbergensi dño suo Andreas perlach 19 hñc / libellũ loco [strene mittit. /

Good and large copy with rough edges, the lower blank margin of the first l. insignificantly repaired.

- 146 Pfefferkorn, Joh. Speculum adhortationis Judaice ad Christum. Cöln, (Martin of Werden), 1507. 4^{to}. Goth. letter, 2 col., 38 lines, 20 unn. ll. With a very interesting full-page woodcut on title, repeated on the last page. Vellum. Frs. 600.—

Not in Proctor.

The extremely rare first Latin edition of the famous „Judenspiegel“, with the very curious large woodcut in first state. The cut shows the Crucifixion, with blood flowing from the wounds and filling a font wherein several persons are about to be baptised. At the back are the Virgin and S. Peter as pope. In the foreground are blind Jews performing circumcision, together with two friends and a person blind and lame. The cut appears in this edition for the first time.

Pfefferkorn was the Jew who was converted in 1503 or 1504 at Cöln. He got from the emperor Maximilian authority to confiscate all Jewish books directed against the Christian faith. These plans were backed by the Dominicans of Cologne, but frustrated by Reuchlin and occasioned the long and bitter controversy between him and the Dominicans of Cöln.

Pfefferkorn advocates in the present tract, that if Jews were deprived of their books the essential grounds of their stubbornness and obstinacy would be removed.

Clean and quite perfect copy of this rare treatise with very fine and fresh impressions of the curious cut.

See Reproduction, plate XXVI.

- 147 Pinder, Ulrich. Speculum Passionis Jesu Christi. Nürnberg, (Printer for the Sodalitas Celtica, Peypus?), 1507. fol. Finely printed in Roman letter, double columns, 1 un. and 90 numb. leaves, ornamented with 39 full-page woodcuts and 38 smaller ones by Schäußelein. Red morocco, gilt fillet, back gilt, g. e. (XIXth cent.) Frs. 1500.—

Proctor 11031. Muther 897. Dodgson I, p. 505, no. 5 and II, p. 5, no. 1. C. F. Murray, Cat. 333.

First edition of this magnificently illustrated Passion, the first book containing cuts with Schäußelein's signature.

35 full-page cuts (five occur twice) are by Hans Leonhard Schäußelein, wonderful examples of his genius. Two of these are signed, they have the monogram HS interlaced and the two crossed showels. The artist being only ab. 20 years of age at the time.

Three full-page cuts on l. LI v, LIII, and LXV and many small cuts are by Hans Baldung Grien, also the large cut on l. Iv, attributed by Bartsch VII, 254 erroneously to Schäußelein.

The beautiful full-page cut on l. XXIV is attributed by Dodgson to Wolf Traut. It represents Christ and the Apostles on the way to Gethsemane. „In this woodcut Traut's characteristic manner of drawing trees begins to appear. The features of St. Peter and of the apostle behind him, in profile to r., anticipate certain types in the large woodcut of the Confraternity of St. Ursula, which I regard as an indisputable work of Traut" (Dodgson I, p. 505, 5).

At the beginning a few small wormholes, some rents in margins skilfully mended, in l. XXIII a very small and insignificant hole, with stamps of the British Museum and its bookplate, otherwise a very fine and clean copy with most brilliant impressions.

See Reproduction, plate XXVII.

- 148 Regimen sanitatis Salernitanum, with the commentary of Arnoldus de Villanova. Köln, Cornelius of Zierikzee, 1507. 4^{to}. 50 un. ll. With a full-page woodcut on title (repeated on the laste page). Hf.-vellum. Frs. 250.—

Panzer VI, 362, 135. Proctor 10548.

Nice and rare edition of this famous poem on popular medicine. It is dedicated to Robert of Normandy, and is a handbook of diet and household medicine, and many of its shrewd and taking sayings have passed into popular use. The Regimen has been translated into nearly every language in Europe. (See Osler, Incunabula medica p. 21). The author is probably Joannes de Meditano.

The large woodcut represents an auditory with two professors and eight medical students.

Good copy, some old MS. annotations, the last l. slightly stained, stamp on title.

- 149 Regiomontanus, Johannes. Calendarium. Venice, Petrus Liechtenstein, 1507. 4^{to}. 28 un. ll. Printed in red and black. With numerous woodcuts representing the phases of eclipses, nice ornamental woodcut capitals, and four large diagrams, one of these with a movable piece (partly missing). Hf.-vellum. Frs. 150.—

Not in Panzer, nor Essling. Another copy of this edition is unknown.

Extremely rare edition of the famous calendar of Johannes Montereio.

In this work the almanacs for the different months embrace the years from 1475 to 1530. Regiomontanus was born at Königsberg in 1436. At Vienna, he was the pupil and associate of George Purbach, and they jointly undertook a reform of astronomy. In 1472 Regiomontanus was summoned to Rome by Pope Sixtus IV to aid in the reform of the calendar. There he died in 1476.

The margins of some ll. are rather shortly cut with insignificant loss of text, from two ll. of the „Calendarium“ a small piece of the upper margins cut away. Old MS. annotations.

- 150 Rosenkranz, Der himelisch. N. p. d. (Bamberg, Johannes Pfeil, ca. 1502). Broadside (20,2×13,7 cm). 17 ll. With a large figured woodcut. Frs. 800.—

Not in Proctor, nor Schreiber. Extremely rare, probably the only copy known.

This very interesting and till now undescribed "rosary" begins with two lines of text: □ Der himelisch rosenkratz. Der lang helt. l. vater vnser. vn. l. | Aue ma. vn. v. glaube. □ Der kurtz. x. va. vn. x. aue. vn. j. glau. | Then follows a fine and interesting woodcut (11,2×9,0 cm), nicely coloured by an old hand, representing in centre the Crucifixion surrounded by several figured representations, the first above the cross shows God the Father, on his right side St. Virgin with the Child, on his left side an angel. The second shows on the right David, Moses, and two prophets, on the left some apostles and evangelists. On the third we see some martyrs, saints, and church-fathers, and on the fourth holy women and virgins, the whole within a rosary, above this the veronica supported by two angels, on the left side the representation of a mass, on the right side the stigmatisation of St. Francis, below the rosary hell and two angels. Schreiber 1828 describes a similar cut from another rosary, printed also about 1500.

This "rosary" is proclaimed by Vitus of Bommersfelden, bishop of Bamberg (1501—1503).

Nice and well preserved copy of a broadside with a remarkable woodcut, described here for the first time. On the blank verso signs of detaching.

See Reproduction, plate XLV.

- 151 Rüxner, Georg. Anfang, vrsprung vnd herkommen des Thurniers inn Teutscher nation. Simmern, Hier. Rodler, 1532. Fol. Title in 13 lines of gothic letter with a large A in calligraphic style, on verso the arms of Charles V., at end the arms of Simmern and the large printer's device. 39 cuts (including repeats) of tournaments, presentation of prizes, dancing, banqueting and other festivities; there are also 246 coats of arms, large and small, those of the victors at the Tournaments and those of the towns where held. Contemporary blind stamped pigskin, two clasps. Frs. 360.—

Brunet IV, 1471. Fairf. Murray Cat. II, no. 373.

Fine copy of the second edition by the same printer and with the same cuts as in the first of 1530. The folding plate (f. 4—5) illustrates the first Tournament and shows several knights jousting in the lists, with onlookers of all grades. Some cuts have the initials H. H. (Nagler, Monogrammisten 1039. Passavant III, p. 452, 30).

Good and clean copy. Library-stamp on title and on the last leaf, the first ll. skillfully repaired in lower and inner blank margins.

- 152 Seneca, Lucius Annaeus. De quattuor virtutibus cardinalibus optimo commento illustratus. Coloniae, H. Quentel fil., 1506. 4^{to}. 16 unnn. ll. Boards. Frs. 24.—

Not in Proctor. Panzer VI, 359, 103.

Rare edition. MS. notes by an old hand, notes of ownership on title, partly erased in the first ll. a small wormhole, waterstained in the margins.

- 153 Solinus. — Camertis, Joa. in C. Julii Solini Polyhistoria enarrationes. (At end:) Viennae Austriae per Joa. Singrenium impens. Lucae Alantse 1520. The title within a fine ornamental and figured border, at the end the two devices of Alantse and Singriener, and the famous double-page map of the world, the earliest map in any book, bearing the name AMERICA, very nicely coloured in gold, blue, yellow, green and red by an old hand. With some ornamented and figured initials. Fol. 8 unnn. ll., 336 numb. pp., 18 unnn. ll., and the double-page folding map. Frs. 3600.—

Harrisse 108. Nordenskjöld, Facsimile Atlas, p. 99, Plate XXXVIII. Denis, Wiens Buchdruckergeschichte p. 211/12. Mayer p. 38, 41, 43.

Most important and interesting „Americanum“, containing the remarkable and very interesting large woodcut map, here finely coloured by an old hand. The map is generally wanting. It is within an ornamented border, and the upper frame bears the following inscription: [T]IPVS ORBIS VNIVERSALIS IVXTA PTOLOMEI COSMOGRAPHI TRADITIONEM ET AMERICI VESPVICII ALIOR'QVELVSTRATIONES A PETRO APIANO LEYSNICO ELVCBR^A9/A DO. M. DXX/ Therefore the map is designed by Peter Apianus, who was born at Leisnig (in Saxony) in 1495 and died in 1552 at Ingolstadt, famous mathematician at court of Charles V. On this map the southern continent of America is separated from the northern, which is termed „Terra incognita“. The southern continent bears the inscription: Anno | d. 1497 | hec terra cum adiacētib9 | insulis inuenit9 est per | Columbum Ianuensem | ex mandato regis Castelle | AMERICA | puincia. All the lettering on the map is in woodcut. The equator is coloured in gold, the continents in green, yellow and rosy, the rivers and the sea in blue, and the mountains in green. This map is also remarkable, as the whole globe, excepting the region in the vicinity of the South Pole is here for the first time drawn on Ptolemy's homeoter projection (see Nordenskjöld, Facs. Atl.)

The Franciscan Giov. Rienzi Vellini, named Camers, from Camerino in Umbria, was professor at Vienna (1468—1546). He edited this edition supported by some other anonymous authors.

In the first ll. a small wormhole, otherwise an unusual fine and clean copy, the map is in best condition, a few MS. annotations.

Bound with:

Pomponius Mela. Libri de situ orbis tres, adiectis Joachimi Vadiani in eosdem scholiis: Addita quoque in Geographiam Catechesi: et Epistola Vadiani ad Agricolum digna lectu. (Ad end:) Viennae Pannoniae, expensis Lucae Alantse per Joa. Singrenium, 1518. The title with a highly ornamented border and Alantse's mark at end. 23 un. + 133 (erroneously 132 numb.) leaves + 2 un. ll., the last blank.

Harrisse 92. Denis, Wiens Buchdruckergeschichte p. 186/88. Mayer 38/39, 145, 156.

In this famous work we find on verso of l. numb. 124 and recto of l. 128, in the epistle of Vadianus to Agricola, two passages relating to America. Fine imprint by Joh. Singriener of this edition with the commentary of Vadianus. Large and clean copy, slightly wormed, MS. annotations.

These two important Americana are bound together in the fine original binding, wooden boards, back covered with nicely blind stamped brown calf, on front cover the title Pomponi9. Inside frontcover the armorial book-plate in woodcut of Christophorus a Trenbach. Canonicus Pataviensis in excellent condition.

See Reproduction, plate XLVI.

- 154 Tartaretus, Petrus. Commentarii in libros philosophiae naturalis et metaphysicae Aristotelis. Annotatur in marginibus si quando author in hisce commentariis ex Scoto quippiam desumpserit. Paris, Gilles de Gourmont, n. d. (1514). 4^{to}.

118 numb., 2 unn. ll. With printer's device on title and several astronomical and geometrical woodcut diagrams. — The same. Commentationes in libros totius logicae Aristotelis. Paris, Joh. Petit, 1514. 4^{to}. 106 (out of 107) numb., 1 unn. ll. With some geometrical diagrams. Old limp vellum. Frs. 36.—

Not in Panzer. Rare edition of the remarkable commentaries of Tartaretus to the metaphysical, physical and philosophical works of Aristotle.

The title-leaf of the 2nd work is wanting, the marginalia of some ll. partly cut away, the last ll. slightly stained. Notes of ownership on title. In point of text a complete copy.

Woodcut (reduced) from No. 155. Versor. Quaestiones ll. de anima Aristotelis. Metz, Hochfeder, 1501.

- 155 Versor, Johannes. Quaestiones librorum de anima Aristotelis. Metz, Caspar Hochfeder, 1501. 4^{to}. 243 unn. ll. With a full-page phrenological woodcut on leaf x⁸ v. MS. vellum. Frs. 300.—

Panzer VII, 405, 1. Not in Proctor. Probably the first edition of this interesting commentary with the text. Very rare.

The author, Joh. Versor, who lived at the end of the 15th century was professor of philosophy at Cologne and wrote some books on Aristotle.

Old MS. annotations, and notes of ownership on the first ll. Quite complete and good copy

With a fine coloured frontisp., a map of Brazil, numerous copperplates of views, Natural History, Manners and Costums, the author's arms and portraits &c. Contemp. vellum. Frs. 100.—
 The celebrated Dutch traveller remained nine years in Brazil, from 1640 to 1649, and has published many interesting and important documents about the history of the 1645 insurrection. The author is considered one of the best authorities on that period. He was the agent of the India Company and lived at Pernambuco, as a supercargo.
 After nine years in Brazil he returned to Holland and after the loss of Brazil he placed his services at the disposal of the East India Company. He was sent to China, governed Ceylon and returning to Holland he was urged to go out again, as his services were so much appreciated.
 He accepted the offer, but never to return, as he fell into the hands of the natives of Madagascar. His brother published the work.
 Fine copy with beautiful plates.

Brunet I, col. 1355 ff. Crawford, Bibl. Lindesiana: Grands et petits voyages of de Bry p. 55—74. Not in Lipperheide.

The first four parts of the „Petits Voyages“ of this famous work. Parts I and II are in 2nd, part III and IV in the first edition. The collation corresponds with the description of the Earl of Crawford, with the following differences: In P. II, the 3 ll. with the „Vorrede“ and Dedication (not mentioned by Brunet) are wanting as usual; the 4 maps of the 2nd part are transposed in the 3rd part; the map „Descriptio Hydrographica“ for the Dutch voyages to Java and the map of North Pole both belonging to the 3rd part are wanting.

This famous work is extremely interesting for the history it contains of costumes, natural sciences, and geography. The plates represent many land and marine animals, islands and towns, manners and customs of the different countries, costumes, etc. etc. The plates and the maps are all in fine impressions. The first German edition was published before the Latin edition and the plates are in first rate condition.

Fine and clean copy. Note of ownership erased on title.

Graesse IV, 13. Muther 1402. Nagler III, 944.

Fine large copy of this extremely rare Strassburg imprint, dealing with the measures used in different countries and towns, e. g.: Schafhausen, Basel, Strassburg, Nürnberg, Franckfurt, Wien a. o. Very rare and interesting book on measures.

The title woodcut shows a mathematician sitting behind a barrel holding an inch-measure. Below verses and date MDXXXI. Further there are 6 mathematical diagrams contained at the end the printer's large armorial device by Hans Baldung Grien with the inscription: Ingenium vires superat.

The last two leaves are carefully mended on top margin without loss of text.

- 269 Reyssbuch dess heyligen Lands, das ist ein gründtliche beschreibung aller vnd jeder Meer vnd Bilgerfahrten zum heyligen Lande etc. etc. Franckfurt a. M., S. Feyerabend, 1584. fol. With some woodcuts. Fine original binding, blind stamped pigskin with metall bosses, clasps gone, with date 1585 and monogram HK. V. W. (Joannes Krafft von Weyblingen). Frs. 150.—

First edition of this very interesting collection of 18 early Pilgrimages to Jerusalem including those of Rupert Abbot of Bergen, Alexander Count Palatin, Bugislaus X of Pomerania, J. Count of Solms and other German Nobility, J. Tucher, Sir J. Mandeville, Stef. v. Gumpenberg, R. von Suchen, Biocard, L. Rauchwolff etc. etc.

Somewhat stained, but a fine complete copy in the original binding.

T. LIVII PATAVINI HISTORIAE AB VRBE
CONDITA DECADII PRIME. Liber Primus.

Acturus ne sim opereptum: si a primordio urbis res populi Romae persequerim: nec satis scio: nec si sciam: dicere aulam. Quippe quae ueterem: tum uulgatam esse rem uideam: dum noui: semper septores aut in rebus certius allatae: uel aliquid se: aut lenibere arte rudem ueritatem superaturos credunt. Ut cumque eorum: ut uisibile tamē res gestarum memorie principis terrarum populi: pro uirile parte: et incipium consuluisset. Etsi in tanta scriptorum turba mea fama in obscuro sit: nobilitate: ac magnitudine eorum: quae nomini officiat: meo: me consolentur. res est praeterea: et inueniendi operis: ut que supra septingentesimum annum repetat: et que ab exiguis profecta intus: eo creuerit: unquam tantam magnitudine laboret sua et legentium plerisque haud dubio: quin prime originis: et proxima originibus: minus prebitura uoluptatis sint: festinantibus ad haec noua: quibus iam pridem preualentis populi uires seipse conficit. Ego contra: hoc quoque laboris premium petam: ut me a conspectu malorum: que nostra per tot annos uidit: etiam: tantisper certe: dum praecura illa tota mente repetere: auertam. Omnis experire cure: que scribentis animi: et si non flectere a uero: sollicitum tantum efficere possit: Que ante condendam urbem: poeticis magis decora fabulis: quam incorruptis res gestarum monumentis traduntur: ea nec affirmare: nec refellere: in animo est: datur haec uenia antiquitati: ut miscendo humana diuinis: primordia urbiu angustiora faciat. Etsi cui populo licere oportet: conscribere origines suas: et ad deos referre autores ea belli gloria est populo Romano: ut cum suum: conditorisque sui parentem Martem potissimum ferat: tam hoc gentis humane patiantur equo animo: imperium patuntur. Sed haec: et his similia: ut cumque animaduersa: ut estimata erunt: haud equidem in magno ponam delicti crimine. Ad illa mihi pro se quisque acriter incedat animus: que uita: quae mores fuerint: per quos uiros: quibusque artibus domi: multique: et partum et auctum imperium sit. labente deinde paulatim disciplina: uelut dissidentis primo mores sequatur animo. Deinde ut magis: magisque lapsi sint: tum ire ceperunt precipites: donec ad haec tempora: quibus nec uita nostra: nec remedia pati possumus: peractum est. Hoc illud est praecipue in cognitione rerum salubre: ac frugiferum: omnis te exempli documenta in illustris posita monumenta intueri. Inde tibi: tuque reipublice: quod imitere: capias. Inde sedum inceptum: sedum exitum quod uires. Ceterum: aut me amor negotii suscepti fallit: aut nulla unquam reipublica nec maior: nec sanctior: nec bonis exemplis ditior fuit. nec si qua ciuitas: tam fera auaritia: luxuriaque immigrauerint: nec ubi tantus: ac tam diu paupertati: aut parsimonie honor fuerit. adeo quanto rerum minus: tanto minus cupiditatis erat: Nuper diuitie auaritiam: et habundantes uoluptates delyderium in luxum atque libidinem pereundi: perendique omnia inuexere. Sed querele ne tum quidem grates future: cum forsitan necessarie erunt: ab initio certe tante ordinande rei abint. cum bonis porius omnibus: uotisque: ac precationibus: deorumque: dearumque: si ut poetis: nobis quoque mos esset: libentius inasperemus: ut oris: tantum operis: successos prosperos darent.

Am primam omnium latissimam Troia capta: ceteros seuitus esse Troianos: duobus Enea Anthenoreque: et uetus iure hospitium: et quae pacis reddendae: Helene: semper autores fuerunt: omne ius belli actiuos abstinauit. Calibus deinde uariis Anthenorem cum multitudine necumque seditione e Paphlagia
